

BOULEVARD CONFERENCE

The Year 2000 begins a new decade and the 105th consecutive season of Big Ten Conference football. The Big Ten is coming off the most successful 10-year period in its football history, and the future looks just as bright. Following Big Ten football has never been easier!

With six bowl partnerships, including an automatic qualifier into the Bowl Championship Series, Big Ten teams will again have post-season opportunities from Pasadena to Miami this year.

Some of the Big Ten's most loyal "partners" are the fans! Last year, attendance at Big Ten home games surpassed a Conference record mark of more than 4.7 million.

When fans aren't walking through Big Ten turnstiles, they're watching on TV. The Conference saw a rise in television ratings for Big Ten football last season and 84 percent of its intraconference games televised and 26 contests shown on national television.

Keeping up with the Big Ten online is as easy as typing www.bigten.org! With over three million visitors a year, the Conference web site is loaded with statistics and information.

Big Ten Conference football...in the stands, on television and on the web...catch the action!

TotalCasts of the men's and women's basketball tournaments and PhotoCasts of various other Conference championships provide viewers with coverage of Big Ten athletes competing for league titles throughout the season. The Big Ten web sites are best viewed by using current versions of either Netscape Communicator or Microsoft Internet Explorer.

FAX ON DEMAND SERVICE

The Big Ten fax on demand system features up-to-date statistics, standings, press releases, rosters, schedules and other information. It is an automated service which can be conveniently accessed 24 hours-a-day by media members and institutional personnel via the handset of a fax machine. To obtain the Big Ten fax on demand passcodes, contact the Conference communications office.

WEEKLY COACHES TELECONFERENCE

The Big Ten Conference football coaches participate in a weekly media teleconference on Tuesday mornings. Contact the Big Ten Communications office for the teleconference phone number and schedule.

BIG TEN PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

A Big Ten Player of the Week is selected for all Conference team sports from nominations submitted by the sports information offices. Award winners are chosen by a vote of the Big Ten Communications staff. The weekly Big Ten football award winners are selected in three categories: offensive, defensive and special teams Player of the Week. The Big Ten office will announce weekly football award winners on Monday mornings at 9 a.m. (CST) via a press release.

OTHER MEDIA AWARDS & HONORS

Additional media awards are selected for each Conference sport, including All-Big Ten teams, along with Coach, Player and Freshman of the Year. In most cases, these honors are voted on by the coaches and media and announced either at the Conference championship or tournament site and/or through a Big Ten press release.

For football, coaches and a media panel each choose All-Conference teams (First, Second and Honorable Mention). Coaches and media pick Big Ten Offensive and Defensive Players and Freshman of the Year. The coaches select the Conference Offensive and Defensive Linemen of the Year, while the media vote on the Dave McClain Coach of the Year award. The Big Ten Chicago Tribune Most Valuable Player is chosen from each of the 11 institutions' MVPs.

Academic All-Big Ten teams are named for every sport. The teams are comprised of all letterwinners who have a cumulative grade point average of "B" or better. Freshmen and first-year junior college transfers are not eligible for Academic All-Big Ten selection.

COMMISSIONER JAMES E. DELANY

Entering his 12th year as commissioner, James E. Delany has led the Big Ten through significant periods of change and growth that have helped the Conference maintain its preeminent position as one of the nation's leaders in providing quality athletic and academic experiences for young people.

Some of the accomplishments that the Conference has experienced under Delany's leadership since he arrived in 1989 have included:

- Expansion of the Conference to 11 institutions with the addition of Penn State in June, 1991;
- Increase of Conference bowl tie-ins from one to six (the Rose, Citrus, Outback, Alamo, Sun and MicronPC.com Bowls);
- Negotiation of unmatched football and basketball television agreements with ABC, CBS, ESPN and Fox Sports Net, including establishment of women's basketball and volleyball games of the week;
- Record revenue distributions of more than $72 million to member institutions in 1998-99 from Conference television agreements, postseason bowl games and the NCAA men's basketball championship. These external revenues help provide support to thousands of young men and women to pursue their dreams of higher education;
- Enhancement and support for women's sports, including a Big Ten Women's Basketball Challenge series and increased television opportunities;
- Significant enhancement of Conference championships through a customized Conference sport liaison program and increased resources through corporate partnership income;
- Establishment of new Conference championships or tournaments in seven sports (men's and women's basketball, field hockey, softball, men's and women's soccer and women's rowing in 1999) which have resulted in over 1,170 increased participation opportunities at Conference-sponsored events;
- Adoption of a voluntary Conference-wide commitment to reach the goal of 60/40 male-female participation in intercollegiate athletics within five years (the first conference to make such a commitment). Since 1992 the Conference has seen a net gain of over 1,100 women's participation opportunities resulting in a movement from 70/30 percent to 56/44 percent male/female participation as of 1998-99. This commitment represented Phase One of the Conference's gender equity plan. Phase Two, activated in the summer of 1998, is a communications plan which incorporates a public relations/community outreach program entitled "Dream Big." The campaign targets young girls in grades K through eight and encourages their participation in sports. Components of the Dream Big effort include a web site located on the Big Ten home page (www.bigten.org), print advertisements, a 30-second public service announcement and coaches resource information;
- Establishment of men's and women's basketball postseason tournaments and summer foreign tours, as well as a Big Ten-ACC men's basketball Challenge series;

- Enhancement of campus-Conference communication through a student-athlete advisory committee, the establishment of a Conference orientation videotape for incoming student-athletes and a Conference "Coaches' Council";
- Involvement as a major force in national athletic reform—including increased academic standards, cost containment, increased opportunities for female student-athletes and, most recently, the restructuring of the NCAA, moving the Association toward a presidential led federated-representative form of governance and the examination of men's college basketball;
- Relocation of the Conference office to a location near Chicago's O'Hare Airport that provides a full-service meeting center to accommodate the Conference's 60+ committees and the many academic-related groups of Big Ten faculty and staff that meet; and
- Creation and expansion of a community outreach program, SCORE (Success Comes Out of Reaching Everyday), through which the Conference office has partnered with two inner city elementary schools in Chicago to improve reading performance. In seven years, over 4,000 children have participated in this program.

Only the Big Ten's fifth commissioner since its founding in 1896, Delany is a respected national leader and recently served as the president for the Collegiate Commissioners Association (CCA).

The 52-year-old Delany is a native of South Orange, N.J. He received his undergraduate degree in political science from the University of North Carolina in 1970 and juris doctorate degree from the University of North Carolina School of Law in 1973.

At UNC, Delany was a three-year member of the varsity basketball team, serving as tri-captain in 1970. As a Tar Heel, Delany twice participated in NCAA Final Four competition.

After earning his law degree, Delany served as counsel for the North Carolina Senate Judiciary Committee from 1973 to 1974, and was staff attorney for the North Carolina Justice Department from 1974 to 1975.

Delany's distinguished career in administering intercollegiate athletics began at the NCAA where he was employed as an enforcement representative from 1975-79. For the next decade, he served as commissioner of the Ohio Valley Conference, where he oversaw the growth and enhancement of OVC athletic programs for men and women.

Active in the community, Delany has held leadership roles in various associations including the Special Olympics, YMCA and other community-related organizations. He is a member of the North Carolina Bar Association.

Delany and his wife, Catherine "Kitty" Fisher Delany, also an attorney, have two sons, Newman, 11 years old, and James Chancellor, 8 years old. The Delanys reside in Hinsdale, Illinois.

OFFICIALS

David Parry is beginning his 11th year as the Big Ten Supervisor of Football Officials. Parry officiated football games for over 29 years, including 14 years at the collegiate level. Throughout those 14 years, Parry officiated for the Mid-American Conference and the Indiana Collegiate Athletic Conference. In 1996, he was named the first National Coordinator of Football Supervisors, a position that oversees 20 Division I-A and I-AA conferences and over 1,000 college officials.

In addition to his collegiate experience, Parry also officiated in the National Football League for 15 years, working Super Bowl XVII, four AFC/NFC championship games and 11 playoff contests. In 1999, Parry received the National Football Foundation's Outstanding Football Official Award which was designed to honor an outstanding official who has demonstrated sportsmanship, integrity, character and contribution to the sport of college football.

Parry is a 1957 graduate of Wabash College and went on to receive a master's degree from Ohio University. He was inducted into the Wabash College Hall of Fame in 1998. He was the director of athletics at Rogers High School in Michigan City, Ind., from 1959-1990. Parry has participated in clinics for entry level officials, lectured at Division I-A, I-AA, II and III conferences and has been an NCAA Football Rules Committee member. In addition he has revised several football officiating manuals and the NCAA Rules Book.

RULES CHANGES

Major Rules Changes for the 2000 Season:

1. Any high/low combination block by any two offensive players is a foul (chop block) when the contact occurs beyond the neutral zone.
2. During substitutions, the offensive team may not rush quickly to the line of scrimmage and quickly snap the ball with an obvious attempt to create a defensive disadvantage.
3. No intentional grounding foul when the passer throws the ball beyond the neutral zone provided he is five or more yards forward the side line from the original position of the ball.

THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE

BIG TEN UNIVERSITIES ...

- are members of the nation's only conference whose constituency is entirely comprised of institutions that are members of the AAU, a prestigious association of major academic and research institutions in the United States and Canada.
- have more than 70 Nobel laureates as faculty, students or researchers.
- enroll students of whom over 41 percent have graduated in the top 10 percent of their high school class, while 74 percent graduated in the top quarter of their class.
- have more than 350,000 living alumni and over 320,000 undergraduate students attend Big Ten universities.
- typically receive more than 8,000 employers each year who conduct recruitment visits on Big Ten campuses.
- house on their campuses eight of the nation's 20 largest academic libraries. All of the Conference libraries are interconnected through an online library system (the Virtual Electronic Library).

BIG TEN MISSION STATEMENT

The Big Ten Conference is an association of 11 world-class universities whose member institutions share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. Intercollegiate athletics has an important place within the mission.

Founded in 1896, the Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics in student-athletes' lives and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness. Big Ten universities provide in excess of $72 million in athletic scholarship aid to more than 7,200 men and women student-athletes to compete for 25 championships, 12 for men and 13 for women. Conference institutions sponsor more than 250 athletic programs.

ATHLETIC PROGRAMS IN THE BIG TEN CONFERENCE ...

- provide an avenue for more than 140,000 young men and women to pursue higher education while competing in sport.
- had 7,222 student-athletes playing on over 260 teams in 1998-99. Those student-athletes received in excess of $72 million in direct financial aid.
- graduate at a rate of 10 percent higher than all Division I student athletes.
- have won more than 185 team titles and 1247 individual titles. In 1999-2000, the Conference celebrated six NCAA team titles (men's soccer, women's volleyball, wrestling, men's basketball, fencing, men's gymnastics), the most for the Big Ten in the last 10 years.
- in a first-of-its-kind analysis by The Sporting News (September, 1999) of all 112 Division 1-A athletic programs (that play football and men's basketball), the 11 Big Ten departments were ranked among the top 29 in the country, including the No. 1 honor for Penn State.
- showcased more than 250 events that are televised nationally, regionally and locally last year, representing over 550 hours of programming.
- are among the national attendance leaders in football, men's and women's basketball and wrestling. During the 1999-2000 season, more than 7.7 million fans attended Big Ten home contests in those sports.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE HISTORY

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE CONFERENCE

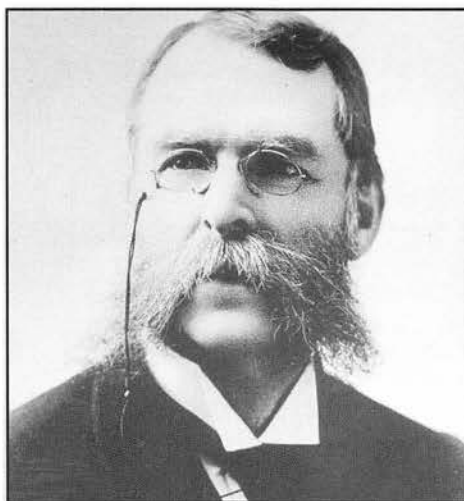

A meeting of seven Midwest university presidents on January 11, 1895, at the Palmer House in Chicago to discuss the regulation and control of intercollegiate athletics was the first development of what would become one of organized sports' most successful undertakings.

Those seven men, behind the leadership of James H. Smart, president of Purdue University, established the principles for which the Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives, more popularly known as the Big Ten Conference, would be founded.

At that meeting, a blueprint for the control and administration of college athletics under the direction of appointed faculty representatives was outlined. The presidents' first-known action "restricted eligibility for athletics to bonafide, full-time students who were not delinquent in their studies."

This helped limit some problems of the times, especially the participation of professional athletes and "non-students" in the university's regular sporting events. That important legislation, along with others that would follow in the coming years, served as the primary building block for amateur intercollegiate athletics.

Eleven months after the presidents met, one faculty member from each of those seven universities met at the same Palmer House and officially established the mechanics of the "Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives," or "Big Ten Conference" or "Western Conference."

Those seven universities were: University of Chicago, University of Illinois, University of Michigan, University of Minnesota, Northwestern University, Purdue University and the University of Wisconsin. Indiana University and the State University of Iowa were admitted in 1899. Ohio State joined in 1912. Chicago withdrew in 1946 and Michigan State College (now Michigan State University) was added three years later in 1949.

After a 40-year period of constancy in membership, the Conference expanded to 11 members for the first time. On June 4, 1990, the Council of Presidents voted to confirm its earlier decision to integrate Pennsylvania State University into the Conference.

As the 1990s opened, faculty representatives established rules for intercollegiate athletics that were novel for the time. As early as 1906, the faculty approved legislation that required eligible athletes to meet entrance requirements and to have completed a full year's work, along with having one year of residence. Both freshmen and graduate students were not permitted to compete, training tables (or quarters) were forbidden and coaches were to be appointed by university bodies "at modest salaries."

Football and baseball were the popular sports prior to 1900. Wisconsin won the first two football championships and Chicago claimed the first three baseball titles. The first "official" sponsored championship was in outdoor track. It was held at the University of Chicago in 1906 with Michigan earning the title.

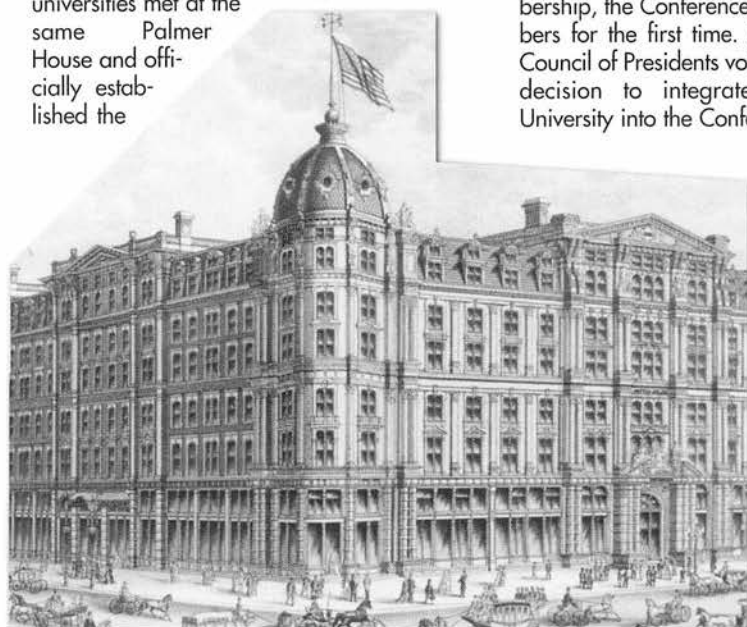

Since 1906, there have been many different athletic events popularized on Big Ten campuses. Some became extremely popular — football and basketball, for example. Others, like boxing, fell by the wayside. Today, the Big Ten sponsors 25 championships, 12 for men and 13 for women.

The office of the commissioner of athletics was created in 1922 "to study athletic problems of the various Western Conference universities and assist in enforcing the eligibility rules which govern Big Ten athletics." Major John L. Griffith was appointed as the first commissioner and served in that position until his death in 1944. Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson, former director of athletics at Northwestern, served from 1944 until he retired in 1961. Bill Reed, an assistant commissioner since 1951, succeeded Wilson until his death in 1971. Wayne Duke became the fourth Big Ten commissioner in 1971 and retired June 30, 1989. Duke was succeeded by James E. Delany on July 1, 1989. Delany came to the Big Ten following 10 years as Ohio Valley Conference Commissioner.

Delany is only the fifth commissioner in the history of the Big Ten. He oversees the operation of the Big Ten Conference office and its staff, housed at the Big Ten Conference office headquarters and meetings center in Park Ridge, Illinois.

The Conference's first fully owned and operated building is located 10 minutes from O'Hare Airport and has been designed to fully service the needs of over 60 different committees, coaches and governance groups from the Conference that hold more than 125 meeting days per year.

From the Conference office headquarters, Delany and his staff have managed over 250 live television events, provide legislative and compliance services, manage 25 different sport championships and tournaments, provide staff services to over 400 coaching and administrative personnel on Big Ten campuses, and service the media and fans' needs and interests for information about the Big Ten Conference.

BIG TEN FOOTBALL INTO ITS SECOND HUNDRED YEARS

The Big Ten is genuine because of names, not numbers. It is a century of giants, an uninterrupted stream of them from start to present."

— Bob Hammel, Sports Editor,
The Herald Times, Bloomington, Indiana

The nation's oldest major intercollegiate athletic conference can look back with pride on its rich football tradition and history. With 13 national championships, 14 Heisman Trophy winners, 287 consensus All-Americans, 109 Academic All-Americans and numerous hall of fame coaching legends, the Conference has shown football fans great teams and players throughout its 104-year history.

THE EARLY DAYS

Wisconsin won the first two Conference football titles in 1896–97. Chicago defeated Michigan 7–6 in the first indoor college football game in November, 1896. The Badgers were led by kicker-fullback Pat O'Dea, who along with Chicago quarterback Walter Eckersall were the Conference's first marquee players. In 1898, Michigan center Walter Cunningham and Chicago fullback Clarence Herschberger were named the Big Ten's first All-America football players and the first All-Americans to come from a conference other than an Ivy League school. Michigan won the first of its record 38 Conference titles in 1898.

Indiana and Iowa joined in 1900, and the Hawkeyes won a share of the 1900 Big Ten title. The 1901 Michigan team crushed Stanford 49–0 in the 1902 Rose Bowl, the first-ever inter-sectional postseason game. Those Wolverines were the first of Fielding "Hurry Up" Yost's famed "point-a-minute" squads that outscored opponents 550–0 that year. They were also the first non-Ivy school considered to be national champions. Halfback Willie Heston was the most famous member of the "point-a-minute" teams that averaged 50 points a game and went 55–1–1 from 1901–05. Their only loss was a 2–0 defeat at Chicago in the last game of 1905. The 1905 Chicago team, coached by Amos Alonzo Stagg, won the Big Ten's second national championship. Minnesota and Michigan tied 6–6 in the first game for the Little Brown Jug, the oldest intercollegiate trophy, in October 1903. The game ended Michigan's Big Ten-record winning streak at 29 games. Michigan left the jug after the game and the Gophers kept it and sent word back to Michigan that they'd have to win it back.

Chicago quarterback Walter Eckersall became the Big Ten's first three-time All-America in 1906. Meanwhile, Michigan's early 1900s squads racked up 50 consecutive home wins, the third-longest streak in NCAA history. Top performers included Germany Schulz of Michigan and Bobby Marshall of Minnesota, one of the first African-American players in the Big Ten. Schulz was the first player ever to drop behind the line of scrimmage on defense, creating the linebacker position.

NINE INTO TEN

Newly instituted Conference rules and reforms prompted the sudden withdrawal of Michigan from the Big Ten from 1907–1914. Ironically, it was Michigan President J.B. Angell who first called for reform. The first-ever homecoming game was played October 5, 1910, between Illinois and Chicago. Illinois won, 3–0. The 1912 Wisconsin Badgers won the Conference title and placed nine members on the Chicago Tribune all-Conference team. The ranks of the Big Ten grew with the addition of Ohio State in 1913 (the same year Woody Hayes was born).

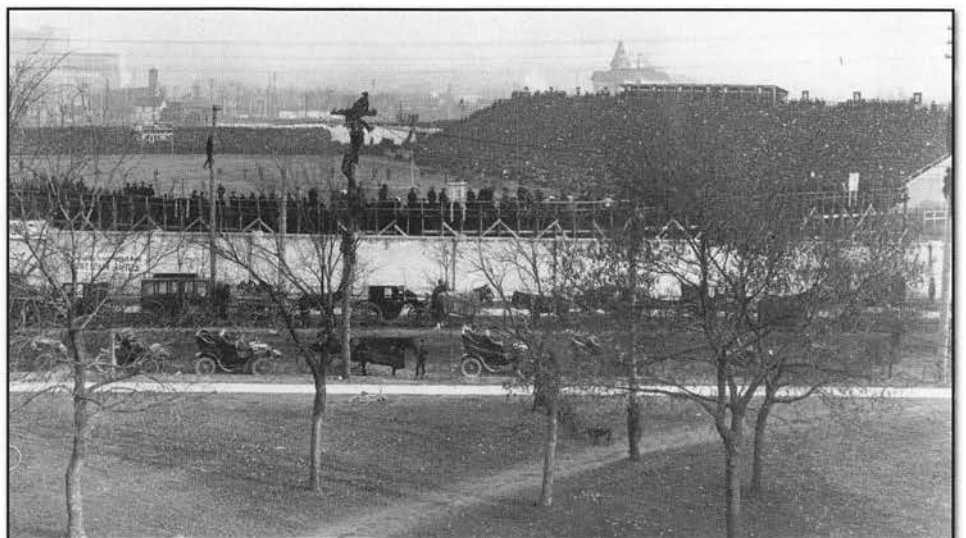

In his second year as coach, Illinois' Bob Zuppke led the Fighting Illini to the 1914

Conference title and the first of his four national championships at Illinois (also in 1919, '23 and '27). The 1916 Ohio State team won its first Conference crown, led by halfback Chic Harley. Illinois knocked off the Buckeyes 9–7 on November 22, 1919, on a last-second field goal by Bob Fletcher (who had never attempted a field goal in a game before). For Harley, the first three-time All-America since the advent of the forward pass (in 1916, '17 and '19), it was his only loss in three years at Ohio State.

THE BIG TEN JOINS THE GOLDEN AGE

The 1920s, called the Golden Age of American Sports, introduced larger-than-life figures whose legends remain vivid in college football's history. Northwestern lost to Knute Rockne's Notre Dame team in 1920, as a young Irish player fought illness to play in the wintery conditions at Evanston. Two weeks later, that player, George Gipp, died of pneumonia. The story of his deathbed request, "win one for the Gipper," forever will be remembered. The Big Ten returned to the Rose Bowl in January 1921, as Ohio State lost to California 28–0. In June, Conference leaders banned participation in all post-season football games.

Perhaps no college football athlete has ever captivated a nation like Illinois halfback Harold "Red" Grange, also known as the "Galloping Ghost." Grange, the first winner of the Big Ten Chicago Tribune Most Valuable Player Award, ended his career winning All-America honors from 1923–25. In quite possibly the greatest individual football performance ever, Grange scored the first four times he touched the ball against Michigan in Illinois' Memorial Stadium dedication game on October 28, 1924. After returning the opening kickoff 95 yards, he scored on runs of 67, 56 and 44 yards, finishing with five touchdowns and 402 total yards on the day.

Other great players of the 1920s included Michigan quarterback Benny Friedman and receiver Bennie Oosterbaan, the only passing duo in college football history to be named All-America two years in a row (1925-26); and Northwestern's All-America back Ralph "Moon" Baker, who led the Wildcats to the 1926 co-title with the Wolverines. Minnesota's Bronko Nagurski was one of the best fullbacks ever to play. The Golden Gophers lost just four games in "Nag's" three years (1927-29) by a total of five points. Ralph "Pest" Welch, Purdue's first All-America, led the Boilers to their first Big Ten title in 1929. Also during the 1920s, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Ohio State, Purdue and Minnesota all erected huge concrete playing fields capable of seating at least 55,000 fans. Michigan State (not yet a member) opened a 76,000-plus seat stadium in 1923. On May 25, 1929, Iowa was suspended from the Big Ten amid allegations of improper financial aid disbursements to star football players, including All-America halfback Willie Glassgow. Iowa was reinstated on February 1, 1930.

TOUGH TIMES AND TOUGH TEAMS

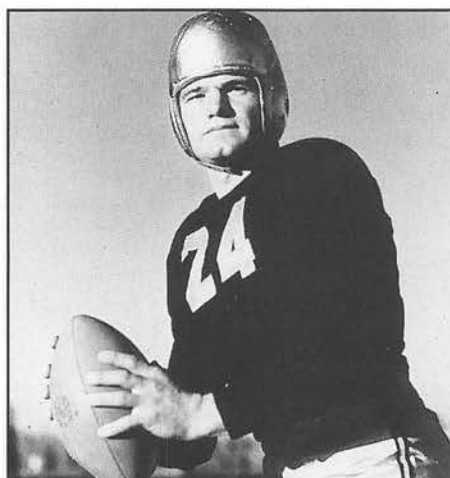

As the Depression Era of the 1930s gripped America, the so-called "Age of Reason" produced four powerhouse institutions. Northwestern (1930, '31 and '36), Michigan (1930 to '33), Minnesota (1934, '35, '37 and '38) and Ohio State (1935 and '39) all claimed multiple Big Ten titles during the decade. Coach Harry Kipke led Michigan to national titles in 1932 and 1933. Future President Gerald Ford was Michigan team captain and MVP in 1934.

Minnesota coach Bernie Bierman led the Golden Gophers through their best era. In a nine-year span, Minnesota posted a 58-9-5 (.840) record, won seven Conference titles and five national titles (1934, '36, '40 and '41 outright and 1935 shared). The Gophers recorded 23 shutouts in 72 games. The 1936 Gophers were the first Associated Press national champions, despite the fact that Northwestern beat them 6-0 to claim the Big Ten title. Bud Wilkinson, who later became a coaching great at Oklahoma, played guard at Minnesota in 1934 and quarterback in 1936. Chicago's Jay Berwanger made headlines in 1935, winning the first Heisman Trophy, given annually to college football's top player. Iowa halfback Nile Kinnick won the 1939 Heisman Trophy, the second Big Ten player to win the honor. Kinnick died tragically when his Navy fighter plane crashed on a training flight in 1943. Iowa's football stadium is dedicated in Kinnick's honor. Chicago, which managed just seven Conference victories during the 1930s, left the Big Ten in 1939.

ACCOLADES AND ROSES

Big Ten teams claimed four national crowns and three Heisman Trophies during the 1940s. Michigan's Tom Harmon, the 1940 Heisman winner, scored 117 points that season to lead the nation for the second straight year, a feat unequalled for 39 years. Harmon's primary backfield blocker was quarterback Forest Evashevski, who later coached Iowa to three Big Ten titles (in 1956, '58 and '60), and served as athletic director. Minnesota won its second AP national championship in 1940, defeating Harmon's Wolverines. Minnesota took its second-straight national championship in 1941 with an 8-0 record, as Golden Gopher halfback Bruce Smith won the third-straight Heisman Trophy for the Conference. Ohio State won the 1942 national title in Paul Brown's (founder of the NFL's Cleveland Browns) second season as Buckeye head coach. Ohio State quarterback Les Horvath won the Big Ten's fifth Heisman Trophy in 1944. Indiana ended the first 50 years of Big Ten football by winning its first Big Ten title in 1945, behind College and Pro Football Hall of Fame end Pete Pihos. In January 1947, Illinois beat undefeated UCLA 45-14 in the Rose Bowl in the first game of an agreement between the Big Ten and Rose Bowl that enters its 55th in 2000. It also marked the first Big Ten postseason appearance in 26 years. Michigan claimed the Big Ten's fifth national title in 1948, featuring All-America tackle Alvin "Moose" Wistert. Alvin and his two brothers, Francis and Albert, remain the only trio of brothers to be named First-Team All-America at any level. Alvin became an All-America at age 32 after serving in the Marines. Northwestern went to the 1948 Rose Bowl (until 1973, Conference rules prohibited teams from making consecutive Rose Bowl appearances), defeating California 20-14. Players like Northwestern quarterback Otto Graham, Wisconsin and Michigan receiver Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch, Michigan and Purdue halfback Chalmers "Bump" Elliott and Minnesota center Clayton Tonnemaker also made headlines in the 1940s.

THE FIFTIES ARE FABULOUS

The 1950s brought Michigan State into the Conference, Woody Hayes to Ohio State and more national accolades to Big Ten teams. Ohio State halfback Vic Janowicz won the 1950 Heisman Trophy. The 1950 Conference title was decided in the famous "Snow Bowl" game, played during one of the worst blizzards in Ohio history. Michigan defeated Ohio State 9-3 despite not making a first down all day. Michigan State, not yet a Conference football participant, won the 1952 national title. The Spartans, coached by Clarence "Biggie" Munn, first played a Conference schedule in 1953, having not lost a game since 1950. Purdue defeated Michigan State 6-0 on October 24, 1953, ending the Spartan winning streak at 28 games. Purdue earned the nickname "Spoilmakers" over the years, knocking off nine No. 1-ranked teams. Michigan State won the 1953 Big Ten title and defeated UCLA in the Rose Bowl. In his fourth season, Woody Hayes led Ohio State to the 1954 AP national football championship and a Rose Bowl victory over Southern California. Hayes' teams won three Big Ten titles and two national championships (Ohio State also won the UPI national title in 1957) during the decade. The Big Ten won consecutive Heisman Trophies, as Wisconsin fullback Alan "The Horse" Ameche won it in 1954 and Ohio State halfback Howard "Hopalong" Cassidy in 1955. Cassidy was the first Big Ten player named unanimous All-America twice (1954-55).

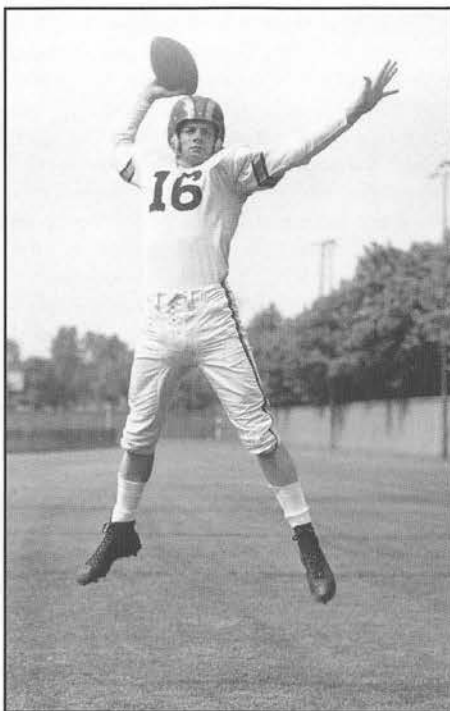

BIG TEN CONFERENCE HISTORY

Stars of the 1950s like Illinois fullback Ray Nitschke, Iowa tackles Cal Jones and Alex Karras, Michigan tight end Ron Kramer, Michigan State receiver Herb Adderly, Minnesota QB Paul Giel (the first two-time Big Ten MVP), Northwestern halfback Ron Burton (whose son, Paul, was a First-Team All-Big Ten punter at Northwestern in '94), Ohio State guard Jim Parker, and Purdue QB Len Dawson, are all members of either the College or Pro Football Halls of Fame.

EVERYONE GETS INTO THE ACT

The 1960s saw a record nine schools win a share of at least one Conference title. Minnesota and Iowa shared the Big Ten title in 1960, with the Gophers claiming the AP national championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl. Minnesota made a return trip to the Rose Bowl after the 1961 season, marking the first time a Conference school made consecutive trips to Pasadena. Wisconsin, the 1962 Big Ten champs, scored 23 fourth-quarter points but fell short, 42-37 against USC in the Rose Bowl. Current Wisconsin Athletic Director Pat Richter set a Rose Bowl record with 11 receptions. Illinois won the Conference title in 1963, led by fullback Jim Grabowski and center-linebacker Dick Butkus. Michigan State, coached by Duffy Daugherty, won the 1965 UPI national championship. One year later, No. 1 Notre Dame tied No. 2 Michigan State, 10-10 in one of the most heralded games ever to preserve the national championship. The Spartans finished second in both polls. Purdue and Indiana made their only Rose Bowl appearances following the 1966 and 1967 seasons, with Purdue defeating Southern California 14-13 and Indiana losing to the Trojans 14-13. The '68 Buckeyes ended their undefeated season by beating USC in the Rose Bowl to claim the national championship.

The 1960s saw many top notch performers: Michigan tackle Dan Dierdorf; Michigan State defensive tackle Charles "Bubba" Smith and defensive back George Webster; Minnesota tackles Bobby Bell and Carl Eller; Wildcat fullback Mike Adamle; fullback Matt Snell, defensive back Jack Tatum and quarterback Rex Kern of Ohio State; Purdue quarterback Bob Griese ('66), halfback Leroy Keyes ('68) and QB Mike Phipps ('69)—each finished second in the Heisman voting in successive years—and quarterback Ron Vander Kelen of Wisconsin.

With accomplished field generals like Len Dawson, Purdue became known as the "Cradle of Quarterbacks."

WOODY AND BO

From 1968 to 1982, Ohio State and Michigan either won or shared the Conference title. The Buckeyes won the 1970 Big Ten title but lost to Heisman Trophy quarterback Jim Plunkett and Stanford in the Rose Bowl to finish No. 2 in the UPI poll. Buckeye lineman Jim Stillwagon was the first winner of the Vince Lombardi Award as outstanding college lineman of the year. In 1974, Ohio State halfback Archie Griffin won the first of two consecutive Heisman Trophies, the only two-time winner of college football's highest honor. Griffin holds the NCAA record with 31 consecutive 100-yard games.

When Michigan played Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl on January 1, 1976, while Ohio State played in the Rose Bowl on the same day, it marked the first time more than one Big Ten team played in the postseason. Eventually as many as seven teams would play in postseason bowls. Ohio State's appearance in the 1976 Rose Bowl was its Big Ten record fourth consecutive trip.

After Ohio State won a record sixth consecutive Conference crown in 1977, Michigan State became the only other team besides Michigan and Ohio State to win a Big Ten title in the 1970s by sharing the 1978 title with Michigan. Michigan went to the Rose Bowl that season, as Rick Leach quarterbacked the Wolverines in his third straight Rose Bowl. The 1979 Buckeyes, ranked second in the polls, lost in the Rose Bowl to Southern California. Some of the decade's top performers included Illinois linebacker Scott Studwell, punter Reggie Roby of Iowa, kicker Morten Andersen of Michigan State, Northwestern tackle Chris Hinton, Ohio State quarterback Cornelius Greene, Purdue halfback Otis Armstrong and Badger tailback Billy Marek.

"THE NATION'S NO. 1 SPECTATOR SPORT"

So said Commissioner Wayne Duke as the 1980s saw fans flock to Big Ten stadiums in record numbers and teams other than Michigan and Ohio State win Conference titles and go to Pasadena. Iowa went to the Rose Bowl following the 1981 season, the first team other than Michigan or Ohio State to do so since 1967. The 1983 Illinois team stands as the only squad to defeat all nine Big Ten teams, earning a Rose Bowl bid with a 9-0 mark. During the 1985 season, in the first game between two Big Ten teams nationally ranked one and two, No. 1 Iowa defeated No. 2 Michigan, 12-10 in Iowa City on October 19 on a field goal as time expired. Iowa won the 1985 Big Ten title and made its second trip to the Rose Bowl in the 1980s. Michigan's Bo Schembechler passed legendary Fielding Yost as Michigan's all-time winningest coach in 1986. Schembechler coached his last team in 1989, which won the Big Ten title, but lost 17-10 to Southern California in the Rose Bowl. The 1987 Conference champion Michigan State defeated the Trojans 20-17 to end the Big Ten's six-game Rose Bowl losing streak.

Some of the decade's top athletes included receiver David Williams of Illinois, the only Big Ten receiver to catch 100 passes in a season; halfback Anthony Thompson of Indiana, second only to Archie Griffin in Big Ten career rushing yards; Iowa quarterback Chuck Long, who finished second by 45 points for the 1985 Heisman, the closest vote in history; and Michigan State linebacker Percy Snow, the only player ever to win both the Butkus and Lombardi awards in the same season.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE HISTORY

HITTING ONE HUNDRED

Not since the 1960s had the Conference seen such "institutional Rose Bowl diversity"; after the decade's first seven seasons, six different schools made Rose Bowl trips in the '90s. Eight different teams either won or shared a piece of the Big Ten title, while four Big Ten athletes were awarded the Heisman Memorial Trophy. Receiver Desmond Howard of Michigan (1991), tailback Eddie George of Ohio State (1995), cornerback Charles Woodson of Michigan (1997) and tailback Ron Dayne of Wisconsin (1999) each earned the coveted award, the most Conference athletes to garner this honor in a single decade.

The '90s boasted a national championship in Michigan, a new team in Penn State and re-surging programs in Northwestern and Wisconsin. The Badgers claimed a share of the 1993 Big Ten title with Ohio State, marking UW's first championship in 31 years. The 1993 campaign was the inaugural season for Penn State as a Conference member. It didn't take long for the Nittany Lions to etch their name in the Conference history books as they garnered their first Big Ten title in 1994, also becoming the first League team to finish undefeated since Ohio State in 1968. That season also marked PSU's first trip to Pasadena since 1923 and resulted in a win over Oregon. In the Big Ten's centennial year of 1995, Northwestern shocked the sporting world and won its first League title since 1936. NU coach Gary Barnett earned consensus National Coach of the Year honors for his direction of the Wildcats. In 1997, Charles Woodson led Michigan to a national championship and its fourth Conference crown in the '90s and became the first defensive player to win the Heisman Trophy. He was the second Wolverine to garner this award in the '90s.

Top performers of this decade include consensus All-America linebacker Dana Howard of Illinois; Michigan Heisman Trophy winner Desmond Howard (1991); Ohio State defensive tackle Dan Wilkinson, the No. 1 overall pick in the 1994 NFL Draft; Penn State quarterback Kerry Collins, halfback Ki-Jana Carter and receiver Bobby Engram. Collins won the 1994 Maxwell and O'Brien awards, Carter was the No. 1 pick in the 1995 NFL Draft and Engram won the first Biletnikoff Award.

In 1995, eight of the 12 individual national awards went to Conference players, including the League's 12th Heisman winner Eddie George of Ohio State. Other honored Buckeyes included Terry Glenn, the Biletnikoff winner, and offensive lineman Orlando Pace, a two-time Lombardi Award winner and No. 1 pick of the '97 draft. Illinois' Kevin Hardy was the 1995 Butkus Award winner, while Northwestern linebacker Pat Fitzgerald won the Bronko Nagurski and Chuck Bednarik awards in back-to-back years (1995, 1996). In 1999, Wisconsin tailback Ron Dayne established himself as one of the greatest running backs of all time by setting the all-time rushing record with 6,397 yards. Along with becoming the NCAA rushing leader, Dayne was named the Heisman Trophy, Maxwell and Doak Walker Award winners. Penn State linebacker LaVar Arrington and Minnesota strong safety Tyrone Carter wrapped up the Conference's national awards in 1999 as Arrington won the Butkus and Chuck Bednarik Awards, and Carter, the Thorpe Award. Penn State defensive lineman Courtney Brown continued the Big Ten's prominence in the NFL Draft as he was selected the No. 1 pick in 2000.

SCORE PROGRAM: SUCCESS COMES OUT OF READING EVERY DAY

The Big Ten SCORE program grew out of a commitment to serve the community in supplementing educational opportunities in grades 2-8 in the Chicago metropolitan area. The Conference's intention to make a positive difference in the community in which it resides has resulted in a nine-year involvement with two west-side Chicago elementary schools.

Partnering with Genevieve Melody School and Louis Armstrong School in a reading and mentoring program, the Big Ten program has served more than 4,000 students and provided more than 4,000 books since the program's inception. Activities are scheduled throughout the academic year to engender reading enthusiasm among the students and to inspire them to develop a love for reading that will last a lifetime.

Activities include:

- A "Kickoff" assembly at each school, with distribution of SCORE sweatshirts.
- Bookstore field trips to select reading materials.
- In-school presentations by Urban Gateways Center for the Arts in Education, bringing books to life for the students, with subjects chosen being directly linked to current study topics.

- Pen-pal program.
- Career assembly, providing interaction with positive role models. This serves as an opportunity to see the connection between reading, writing and study and career goals.
- "TOP TEN" Reader Recognition Day at the Big Ten office. This is a valuable mentoring activity for five top readers from each school, as staff visits with the students.
- "Young Authors" program, literature circle and "book talks."

The success of the SCORE program is evidenced in reading scores and in the overall positive impact on the students' academic experience. National test scores for both schools have documented solid growth in reading skills over the life of the program.

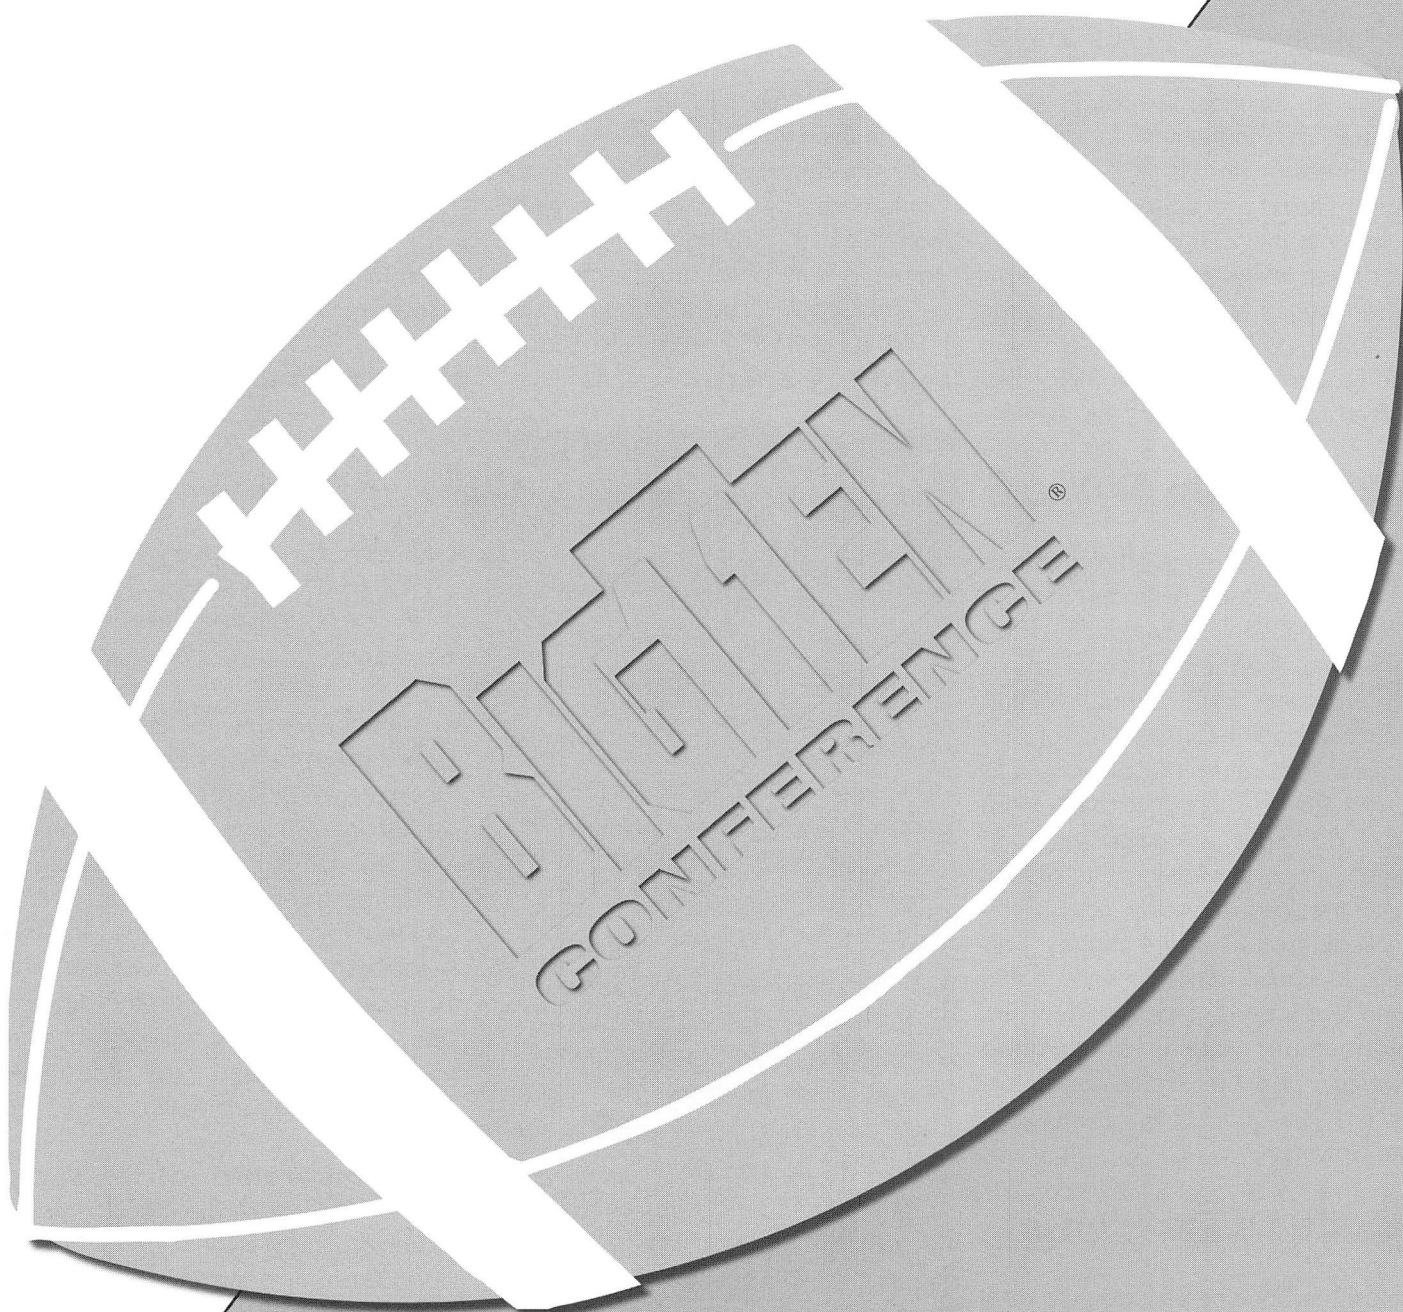

The Big Ten Conference is pleased to be of service and contribute to the achievement of the students involved. Sharing the learning experience with these students has been and continues to be a priority of the Conference.

BIG TEN FOOTBALL

NOTING THE BIG TEN

A new era of Big Ten football kicks off on August 26. Although it might seem difficult to improve on the successes and tradition of names like Woody Hayes and Red Grange, the modern-day Big Ten legends, like Joe Paterno, with his 317 career victories, and Drew Brees, with his 8,124 career passing yards, are poised to lead the Big Ten into the 21st century. Back on the gridiron this year are 14 First Team All-Conference honorees from a year ago, along with Wisconsin quarterback Brooks Bollinger, the 1999 Big Ten Freshman of the Year.

Kicking Off In Style

The Big Ten Conference officially starts the football season with the annual Kickoff Luncheon. This year's event, held at the Sheraton Chicago in late July, was the 29th annual Kickoff Luncheon and featured 22 of the League's top returning players and each of the 11 head coaches. More than 1,700 college football fans and Big Ten supporters attend this annual event—the largest yearly celebration of college football in the country. This year's luncheon emcees were ESPN Game Day's Lee Corso, a former Big Ten football coach at Indiana University, and Kirk Herbstreit, a former Big Ten quarterback from Ohio State University.

Decade Of Excellence

The Big Ten Conference is coming off a decade of great success in the 1990s in all sports and, in particular, football. Here's why the 1990s can be called the Conference's most successful decade of gridiron action:

Bowl Wins: Starting with the 1970s when the Conference began participating in more than one bowl game per year, the bowl wins per decade show:

5 in the 1970s
21 in the 1980s

30 in the 1990s, including the Conference's only season to go undefeated when playing multiple bowl games (5-0 in 1998) and the most successful back-to-back bowl years (1998 and 1999) when the League posted a 10-2 mark.

Bowl Appearances: The 1990s also saw an increase in the number of times Big Ten teams played in bowl games. Each of the 11 Big Ten teams made at least one bowl appearance in the 1990s—the only decade in Conference history to see such parity and post-season success.

1970s—19 bowl appearances
1980s—46 bowl appearances
1990s—58 bowl appearances

Heisman Trophy Winners:

Players in the Big Ten have won 14 Heisman Trophies. Here's the breakdown by decade:

1930s—2 1940s—3

1990s—4, including three in the last five seasons.

Ranked Teams: For the first time in the history of the Associated Press poll, a conference placed seven teams in a weekly Top 25 poll, and that conference was the Big Ten. On October 4, 1999, seven Big Ten squads were ranked for the first time in the Associated Press poll. October 18 marked the first time that the Big Ten was represented by seven teams in both the Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN Top 25 polls.

Non-Conference Success: By far, the 1990s were the most successful campaigns in the modern era for Big Ten teams versus non-conference opposition in regards to total wins and winning percentages. Bowl games are included in the following records.

Big Numbers for Big Ten on TV

Ratings for Big Ten football were up on ABC, ESPN and ESPN2 last year. ABC ratings were up seven percent, ESPN ratings jumped nine percent while ESPN2 ratings saw the highest increase, up 21 percent. The Big Ten had 26 nationally televised games in 1999 and 84% of Big Ten intra-conference games were televised. ESPN2 reported record ratings on Nov. 6 as the Minnesota at Penn State game was the most-viewed college football telecast in ESPN2's history. The game was viewed in more than 1.3 million households. Along with the Ohio State at Michigan State tilt on ESPN that day, the two stations recorded a combined 4.30 cumulative rating—the second-highest cumulative rating in Big Ten-ESPN football history.

Parity Particulars

Coaches and players can say that the Big Ten is the toughest league top-to-bottom week-in and week-out, but here are the numbers to prove it. In 1998, a total of 13 intraconference games were decided by seven points or less. In 1999, that number jumped to 19 games decided by seven points or fewer and 20 games with an eight-point or less final score margin. In the 1990s, eight different Big Ten teams won the Conference title outright or shared it with another team. Five times in the last decade the Big Ten regular season title was shared by at least two teams. In 1990, four squads claimed a piece of the title, while in 1998, there was a three-way knot for the Conference championship.

No Nonsense Against Non-Conference

The Big Ten finished the 1999 regular season non-conference schedule with a 28-7 (.800) mark—the League's best-winning percentage since 1960. The 28 victories are the most regular season non-conference wins (excluding bowls) since the 1929 season when the Conference was 30-6 and no bowl games were played. Following last year's bowl campaign, the Big Ten concluded the year with a 33-9 non-conference record (.786).

Versus Ranked Non-League Opposition

Big Ten teams collected an 11-4 (.733) record in 1999 over nationally ranked non-conference foes, including four victories over Top 25 bowl opponents.

Dayne Did It!

Last year Wisconsin's Ron Dayne tackled the NCAA record book and established himself as one of the greatest college running backs of all time. Dayne broke Ricky Williams' all-time rushing record and finished his career with 6,397 yards (bowls not included). Dayne also holds the NCAA record for career rushing attempts (1,115) and tied the career 200-yard game record with 11. In the Big Ten, along with being the

Big Ten Reaches Attendance Record

In 1999, the Conference surpassed its all-time attendance mark and set a new standard with 4,711,230 fans, for an average of 67,303 per game. It was the Big Ten's first season at more than 4.7 million. Michigan closed out the regular season with its own attendance record of 111,575 at the Ohio State game. It was the largest crowd to ever witness an NCAA football game. The Big Ten has led the nation in attendance 15 of the 22 years that records have been kept by the NCAA. In 1999, 36 games on Big Ten campuses were sold out—tying the Conference single-season record previously set in 1995. The top 10 most-attended games last year in the League were:

Ohio State at Michigan	Nov. 20	111,575
Notre Dame at Michigan	Sept. 4	111,523
Purdue at Michigan	Oct. 2	111,468
Northwestern at Michigan	Nov. 6	110,794
Rice at Michigan	Sept. 11	110,501 all-time rushing leader, he is also No. 1 in Conference points scored (420) and career rushing touchdowns (70).

Heisman Hype

Along with becoming the NCAA rushing leader, Ron Dayne was named the Heisman Trophy winner, only the second Wisconsin player to ever earn the award (Alan Ameche, 1954). Dayne became the Big Ten's 14th Heisman winner and the fourth in the 1990s. Not only did the Big Ten win the Heisman last year, but the League also had a second player in the top five as Purdue junior quarterback Drew Brees garnered 308 votes to finish in fourth place.

Only One Newcomer

On the sidelines this year, the Big Ten will have one new face as Bobby Williams takes over as Michigan State's head coach. Williams, in fact, has already earned his first victory as the Spartans' head coach as he led the team to a 37-34 decision over Florida in last year's Citrus Bowl.

Coaching Prowess

The Big Ten Conference has legendary names in its coaching annals and on the sidelines even today. Along with Hall of Fame names, the League also has some of the brightest young talent in the industry. The 11 Big Ten mentors have combined to coach in 1,350 games and have a combined record of 863-468-19 (.639). Ohio State's John Cooper is among the top of the Big Ten 10-Year Coaches Records. Entering his 13th season as the head coach of the Buckeyes, Cooper has the longest standing tenure as a head coach

Moving On

The Big Ten had 36 players selected in the 2000 NFL draft, including seven first-round picks and the overall No. 1 and No. 2 selections in Penn State's Courtney Brown and LaVar Arrington. Ten Conference schools had players drafted, with Michigan State topping the list as seven Spartans were picked. In 1999, the Conference had 27 first-round selections.

NOTING THE BIG TEN

in the League. He has notched a 103-39-4 (.719) record in his 12 years at OSU. That record is good for sixth place all-time in the Big Ten 10-Year Coaches Records list.

Academic Success

Following the 1999 season, a pair of Big Ten football standouts were honored by the NCAA for their achievements in the classroom. Penn State kicker Travis Forney (elementary education) and Michigan nose tackle Rob Renes (secondary education) were among the 13 Division I student-athletes in football who were awarded NCAA postgraduate scholarships. The scholarship winners each receive a $5,000 grant to assist in continuing their post-baccalaureate education.

Bowl Banter

The Big Ten placed seven teams in bowl games last year, a number which tied the Conference's all-time season high. It was the fourth time that seven Big Ten teams played in bowl games. The three other seasons were 1993, 1996 and 1997. For the seventh consecutive year, the Big Ten placed at least five teams in bowl games. The Big Ten has the third highest number of bowl appearances of all Division I-A conferences with 172. The Southeastern Conference is first with 292 and the Big XII is second with 244.

Early Birds

Four Big Ten teams will open the 2000 season in the month of August, with Iowa opening the earliest on Saturday, August 26, against Kansas State in the Eddie Robinson Classic in Kansas City. Penn State then makes an appearance in the Kickoff Classic against Southern Cal on Sunday, August 27, at Giants Stadium. Both Wisconsin and Northwestern kick off their schedules on Thursday, August 31. The Badgers will host Western Michigan while the Wildcats welcome Northern Illinois.

The Next Great One

The Big Ten traditionally has had its share of great running backs. From Nile Kinnick to Archie Griffin and most recently with Ron Dayne, Big Ten rushers are historically some of the best to ever play. Who will be the next Conference standout ball carrier? Back to tote the ball this year are six of the League's top 10 rushers from last year, including Indiana's scrambling quarterback Antwaan Randle El. Heading the list of returning rushers are Michigan's Anthony Thomas, who posted 1,297 yards on 301 carries last year, and Northwestern's Damien Anderson, who chalked up 1,128 stripes on 306 attempts. Thomas is also the Big Ten's top returning scorer (8.5 ppg) and all-purpose yardage gainer (140.1 per game). Iowa's Ladell Betts (189-857 yards), Indiana's Levron Williams (118-817 yards) Randle El (224-788 yards) and Montrell Lowe from Purdue (173-841 yards) round out the list of top returning rushers from last season.

BIGTEN[®] CONFERENCE

Synonymous with "New Year's Day Bowls"

For the fourth straight year, on January 1, 2000, four Big Ten teams played in New Year's Day bowl games. Over the past four years in those 16 games, the Conference has a 10-6 record, including a 7-1 New Year's Day record over the past two seasons.

Big Ten & the Rose Bowl:

Big Ten teams have won four straight Rose Bowls and seven of the last eight games. The 1999 game marked the 56th overall and the 54th straight appearance in the Rose Bowl for a Big Ten team. Wisconsin downed the Stanford Cardinal last year and became the first Big Ten team to win back-to-back Rose Bowls. In the 1990s, the Big Ten sent six different teams to the Rose Bowl while seven different Pac-10 teams made Rose Bowl appearances in the last decade. The Big Ten owns a 29-27 all-time record over the Pac-10 in Rose Bowl games.

Returning First Team All-Big Ten Honorees

The Big Ten welcomes back 14 players from last year's All-Big Ten First Team—10 on offense and four from the defensive side of the ball.

On Offense:

Jeff Backus, Michigan, SR, OL: Three-time All-Conference honoree who will be starting for the Wolverines for the fourth straight season.

Drew Brees, Purdue, SR, QB: Needs 2,338 yards to become the Big Ten's all-time career pass yardage leader.

Bill Ferrario, Wisconsin, SR, OL: Three-year starter who could become just the fourth player in league history to start 50 games if his streak continues in every game this year.

Ben Hamilton, Minnesota, SR, C: Lombardi and Outland Trophy candidate who was a First Team All-America honoree in 1999.

Steve Hutchinson, Michigan, SR, OT:

Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award candidate who is looking to become only the second player in Michigan history to earn All-Big Ten First Team honors all four years (defensive tackle Mark Messner is the other).

Kareem McKenzie, Penn State, SR, OT: Two-time All-Big Ten selection started every game in 1999 and was on the field for 908 snaps.

Vitaly Pisetsky, Wisconsin, SR, PK: Candidate for the Lou Groza and Mose Tatum Awards who scored 94 points, made 16-20 field goals and hit 14 straight FGs in one stretch last season.

Casey Rabach, Wisconsin, SR, C: Three-year starter and team captain this year who helped the Badgers lead the League in rushing during two of his seasons.

Tim Stratton, Purdue, JR, TE: Team's third leading receiver last year who was ranked fourth nationally among tight ends in receptions, fifth in yards and tied for sixth in touchdowns.

David Terrell, Michigan, JR, WR: All-America and Biletnikoff Award candidate who is the team's top returning receiver with 85 career receptions for 1,187 yards (14.0 avg.) and nine touchdowns.

On Defense:

Wendell Bryant, Wisconsin, JR, DT: One of just four players (and the only sophomore) to make First Team All-Big Ten and Academic All-Big Ten in 1999.

Jamar Fletcher, Wisconsin, JR, DB: Two-time All-American who broke the Big Ten career record for interceptions returned for TDs (five) in 1999.

Craig Jarrett, Michigan State, JR, P: Two-year starter who has a career 43.6 yards per punt average.

Karon Riley, Minnesota, SR, DE: Third Team All-America selection in 1999 who led the Big Ten in sacks with 16.

Counting the Numbers

When the 2000 season kicks off, many familiar Big Ten faces will return to the playing field. Ten of the 11 teams return a double-figure amounts of starters from a year ago. Both Northwestern and Wisconsin bring back a League-best 18 starters from 1999 while Penn State's lineup was the most depleted with nine starters returning and 15 lost.

BOWL CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

Starting in 1998, the Bowl Championship Series (BCS) determined the Division I-A National Champion in football. In the BCS's first season, Tennessee defeated Florida State, 23-16, in the Fiesta Bowl to claim the national title. Last year, it was Florida State's turn as the Seminoles topped Virginia Tech 46-29 in the Sugar Bowl for their second national title in seven years.

The BCS Series consists of the Rose Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Orange Bowl and the Fiesta Bowl. Conferences with automatic berths include the Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Pac-10 and the Southeastern Conferences.

This past January, BCS members voted to extend the BCS agreement with ABC through the 2005 regular season and 2006 bowl season, allowing each of the four bowls to host two national championship games.

The BCS also notes the importance of regional consideration regarding team selection. Specifically, as a member of the BCS, the Rose Bowl will host the Big Ten and Pac-10 champions in those years in which either the Rose Bowl does not have the national championship game or the Big Ten and Pac-10 champion is not ranked No. 1 or No. 2. Other "regional consideration" tie-ins include the SEC champion in the Sugar Bowl, the ACC or Big East champion in the Orange Bowl and the Big 12 champion in the Fiesta Bowl.

Any Division I-A independent team or the champion of any Division I-A conference which is ranked sixth or higher in the BCS standings will also be eligible for the Bowl Championship Series.

A year ago, over 1.2 million fans attended college football's 23 bowl games. This season, there will be 25 post-season bowl games, from the 87th Annual Rose Bowl, to the first-year galleryfurniture.com Bowl in Houston, Texas, and the Silicon Valley Bowl in San Jose, Calif.

THE ROSE BOWL

In 2000-01 the Rose Bowl enters its third season as part of college football's Bowl Championship Series (BCS). Because of its membership in the BCS, the Rose Bowl may not feature the champion of the Big Ten and/or the Pac-10 Conferences in a given year. If either of these two conference champions are ranked No. 1 or No. 2 in the final regular season BCS rankings, then that team will participate in the designated national championship game. Along with the Rose Bowl, the Orange, Sugar and Fiesta Bowls make up the rotation for BCS national title games. This year, the national championship game will be hosted by the Orange Bowl on January 3, 2001, at 8 p.m. (Eastern). The Rose Bowl takes its turn at hosting the BCS national championship title game on January 3, 2002.

"The Rose Bowl tradition remains central to the Big Ten and college football culture," Big Ten Commissioner James E. Delany said. "The Big Ten is proud of its relationship with the Rose Bowl and the Tournament of Roses Association, and pleased that we worked together with the other conferences to develop a playoff system that is good for the Big Ten, good for college football and good for the bowls."

Like most long-standing traditions, the Rose Bowl has come full circle.

- Since the pact was initiated in 1946, the Big Ten and Pac-10 have nearly established parity in the Rose Bowl win-loss columns. The Big Ten holds a narrow 29-27 record.

- There have been five different Big Ten teams in the Rose Bowl in the last five years.

History of the Rose Bowl

The Pacific Coast (now the Pacific-10) and Western (Big Ten) Conferences, along with the Pasadena Tournament of Roses Association, agreed on November 19, 1946, to an exclusive Rose Bowl game contract.

Both conference commissioners commented that they "expect this five-year contract to be a forerunner of a long-time agreement. This present agreement is just a starter." The passing of time has shown us they were right on both accounts. It remains the oldest college football agreement between two of the nation's top conferences.

Though the contract was often referred to as a "shotgun marriage," officials had been in negotiation with the Tournament for eight years. The contract was effective immediately, voted on by faculty representatives from the two conferences. Both sides agreed that each conference could designate its own representative, regardless of season records.

Illinois (7-2) and UCLA (10-0) were selected to play in the inaugural game under the pact.

Prior to 1947, the Rose Bowl game drew five sellout crowds. Every game since then has been a sellout.

The 1963 game was the first No. 1 against No. 2 showdown, matching undefeated USC (10-0) with the 8-1 Wisconsin Badgers.

The '70s were for the Big Ten like the '50s were for the PCC (then the Pac-8) when playing in Pasadena. The Conference emerged victorious once, when Ohio State beat USC 42-21 in 1974. It was the second of three straight USC-Ohio State match-ups.

The Pac-10 continued to prosper in the '80s, taking home the Rose Bowl trophy seven times to the Big Ten's three.

The '90s were characterized by continued parity as the Pac-10 won three Rose Bowls and the Big Ten claimed seven.

The record for most appearances goes to USC (19) in the Pac-10 and Michigan (16) in the Big Ten.

In its 85 years, the Rose Bowl has maintained its tradition-rich standard of excellence, living up to the nickname "Granddaddy of all Bowl Games."

Method to Determine Rose Bowl Participant

In the event the Big Ten Conference regular season football champion is ranked No. 1 or No. 2 in the final BCS regular season rankings, then that team will play in the designated BCS national title game. In 2001, the Orange Bowl will host the BCS national championship game on January 3. If the Big Ten regular season champion is not ranked No. 1 or No. 2, then the following methods will be used to determine the Conference's Rose Bowl participant.

- A. The Conference champion shall be the representative team. The championship shall be determined on the percentage basis of Conference games.
- B. An ineligible team shall not be considered in the standings for determination of the Conference representative.
- C. If there is a tie for the championship, the winner of the game between those teams shall represent the Conference.
- D. If the tied teams did not play each other, the representative shall be determined on the percentage basis of all games played in the traditional 11-game schedule.
- E. If there is still a tie, the most recent team representing the Conference shall be eliminated.
- F. If more than two teams tie for the championship, the same selection procedures shall be followed with these exceptions:

1. If three teams are tied and if one team defeated both of the other teams, then that team shall be the representative.
2. If three teams are tied and if two of the three teams both defeated the third team, the third team is eliminated and the remaining two teams shall revert to the two-team tie procedure.
3. If three teams are tied and if two of the three teams did not play each other, the representative shall be determined on a percentage basis of all games played in the traditional 11-game schedule.
4. If three teams are tied and one of the three teams is eliminated through the percentage basis of all games played in the traditional 11-game schedule procedure, the remaining two teams shall revert to the two-team tie procedure.
5. If three teams are tied and all three teams have the same winning percentage of all games played in the traditional 11-game schedule, the most recent team representing the Conference shall be eliminated and the two remaining teams shall revert to the two-team tie procedure.
- G. If there are four teams tied for the championship, the following selection procedure shall be followed:

1. If one team defeated each of the other three teams, then that team shall be the Conference representative.
2. If two of the four teams defeated each of the other two teams, the latter two teams shall be eliminated and the two remaining teams shall revert to the two-team tie procedure.
3. If three of the four teams defeated the fourth team, the fourth team is eliminated and the remaining three teams shall revert to the three-team tie procedure.
4. If two of the four teams did not play each other, the representative shall be determined on a percentage of all games played in the traditional 11-game schedule.
5. If one of the four teams is eliminated through the percentage of all games played in the traditional 11-game schedule procedure, the remaining three teams shall revert to the three-team tie procedure.
6. If all four teams have the same winning percentage for all games played in the traditional 11-game schedule, the most recent team representing the Conference shall be eliminated and the three remaining teams shall revert to the three-team tie-breaking procedure.

BIG TEN FOOTBALL

2000 TEAM CAPSULES

Illinois FIGHTING ILLINI

TEAM NOTES

With the Illini's 63-21 win over Virginia in the USA Today/ESPN Coaches' Poll at No. 25. The ranking was the first time Illinois had been in the top 25 since the 1995 preseason poll when it was 24th. With Illinois' emergence in the top 25, it became one of seven Big Ten teams in the poll.

With the 63 points scored in the Micronpc.com Bowl, the Illini became the second-highest scoring team in collegiate bowl history. The 1990 Holiday Bowl saw Texas A&M post a 65-14 win over BYU. With its nine-touchdown, 611-yard effort against Virginia, Illinois shattered a total of 22 school and Micronpc.com Bowl records, including most points, most offensive yards, most touchdowns and fewest punts.

One of the most impressive numbers of the 1999 season was the Illini's 27-to-14 turnover ratio for a +13 margin, ranking second in the nation. The Illini tallied 15 interceptions with safety Muhammad Abdullah leading the way with five picks. Linebacker Michael Young forced three fumbles to lead a defense that registered 12 fumbles on the year. On the other side of the ball, quarterback Kurt Kittner threw only five interceptions, and the Illini running game only gave up the ball eight times.

One of the best turnarounds in college football history last year, Illinois jumped 76 places from its 91st ranking in the 1998 final Sagarin ratings to 15th last season with the 18th-toughest schedule.

The 1999 Illinois squad became the highest scoring offense in school history with its 63-21 bowl win over Virginia. With 388 points in 12 games, the Illini surpassed the 1902 team that posted 380 points in 13 games. Illinois scored over 40 points in five contests, including 46 points at Ohio State and 63 in the bowl win. Kittner also did some record breaking of his own with his two touchdown passes thrown in the bowl game which broke a 10-year-old record for most TD passes in a single season with 24.

The Illini posted a 5-1 record in road games last season, including a 35-29 win at No. 9 Michigan and a 46-20 victory over No. 25 Ohio State. Illinois also won at Louisville (41-36), at Iowa (40-24) and vs. Virginia in Miami, Fla. (63-21). The Illini's sole road blemish of the season was an overtime loss to Indiana, 34-31. The wins at "The Big House" and at "The Horseshoe" mark the first time in school history an Illini team has won at both sites in the same season and the first time since 1951 that any collegiate team has accomplished the feat. Illinois' 20-point comeback at Michigan is the largest in school history, and the Illini handed the Buckeyes their worst home loss since 1946.

Illinois FIGHTING ILLINI

FIGHTING ILLINI TO WATCH

KURT KITNER, QB, JR 6-3, 205, Schaumburg, Ill.

Led the Illini in 1999 to the highest scoring offense in school history and set a school record for touchdowns in a single season with 24...Heisman Trophy, Davey O'Brien and All-America candidate after an outstanding sophomore season when he threw for over 2,700 yards, 24 touchdowns and only five interceptions...ranked as one of the top returning quarterbacks in the nation by many preseason publications...named the Micronpc.com Bowl Most Valuable Player after 254 yards passing, two touchdown passes, one TD rushing and one TD receiving in the Illini's 63-21 win over Virginia...earned honorable mention All-Big Ten honors in 1999...garnered Big Ten Player of the Week honors twice during the 1999 season...ranks sixth on the Illini's all-time list for career TD passes (25) and in career passing yardage (3,484) in just two years at Illinois.

MUHAMMAD ABDULLAH, S, JR 6-1, 200, Barnegat, N.J.

Will anchor the Illini secondary this season as the only returning starter from 1999...an All-Big Ten candidate after a strong campaign last season...started all 12 games at safety, leading the team with five interceptions, ranking fifth in the Big Ten...his five interceptions were the most in a single season by an Illini since 1996...ranked third on the team in total tackles with 79, the most of Illinois defensive backs...also recovered a team-high four fumbles en route to the Illini's No. 2 national ranking in turnover margin...recorded 11 tackles against Iowa and seven vs. Northwestern.

MARQUES SULLIVAN, LT, SR 6-5, 310, Oak Park, Ill.

Returns for his fourth consecutive season as a starter for the Illini...a 2000 preseason Playboy All-American...named to the Sports Illustrated All-Bowl team for his part in the Illini's 611 yards total offense at the Micronpc.com Bowl...an All-America, All-Big Ten candidate...rated as one of the top 10 returning offensive tackles in the nation in many preseason publications...anchors an offensive line that returns all five starters and held Michigan, Ohio State, Northwestern and Iowa defenses without a sack...has made 34 consecutive starts on the line and totaled 51 knockdowns in 1999...allowed the Illini to rush for 2,082 yards (fifth in the Big Ten) and pass for 2,805 yards (third in the Conference).

ROCKY HARVEY, RB, JR 5-9, 180, Chicago, Ill.

Speedy tailback led team with 10 plays of 20-plus yards from scrimmage, including five scores...rated as one of the top 30 running backs in the nation by many preseason publications...All-Big Ten candidate...rushed for 774 yards and posed as a double threat with 243 yards receiving and nine total touchdowns...caught a short pass and turned it into a dramatic 59-yard touchdown to give Illinois a 28-27 lead at Michigan; less than two minutes later, he darted through the defense for a 54-yard TD run to seal the comeback victory over the Wolverines...ranks 17th in career rushing at UI with 1,408 yards...racked up consecutive 100-yard games (106 vs. Michigan and 145 vs. Penn State), adding one more in the Illini's win over Virginia in the Micronpc.com Bowl with 122 yards rushing.

MICHAEL YOUNG, LB, SR 6-2, 227, St. Louis, Mo.

Has started 31 games at linebacker in his three-year career...All-Big Ten candidate...Butkus Award nominee...ranked sixth on team with 48 tackles, including four for loss in 1999...recorded seven tackles and one sack against Michigan State...registered three sacks for a loss of 14 yards...totaled two tackles for loss in season opener against Arkansas State...had seven tackles, including one for loss against Michigan State...recorded six tackles with four solos and one tackle for loss in contest at Indiana...had seven tackles vs. Northwestern...led team with three forced fumbles...recovered one fumble.

Indiana HOOSIERS

TEAM NOTES

Indiana was the only team in the country in 1999 to have a 2,000-yard passer (QB Antwaan Randle El), two 750-yard rushers (Randle El and RB Levron Williams) and two 600-yard receivers (Jerry Dorsey and Versie Gaddis). All four players will return in 2000.

Randle El was the first sophomore in the history of the Big Ten Conference to reach 5,000 career total yards rushing and passing. He also reached 3,000 yards passing and 1,500 yards rushing faster (19 games) than any player in the history of college football.

Indiana's defense allowed only four touchdown passes in the final six games of the 2000 campaign.

In 2000, Indiana will return four players (Randle El, Williams, De'Wayne Hogan, Marcus Floyd) who have recorded 100-yard rushing games during their career and four players who have tallied 100-yard receiving games (Jerry Dorsey, Williams, Versie Gaddis, O.J. Conner).

Indiana scored 30-or-more points in six games during the 1999 season, the second-highest total in school history. Returning to the IU roster in 2000 will be 100 percent of its passing production, 96.9 percent of its rushing output, and 99.7 percent of its receiving production.

Indiana HOOSIERS

HOOSIERS TO WATCH

VERSIE GADDIS, WR, SR
5-10, 188, Atlanta, Ga.

After sitting out the 1997 season with a knee injury, this co-captain from Atlanta returned to action in 1998 but was not at the form that had made him one of the Big Ten's top young receivers as a true freshman two years earlier...however, the 1999 season was a triumphant return for this gifted wideout as he led IU in receptions with 35 and tallied 633 receiving yards, including three touchdowns...in the 1999 season opener vs. Ball State, tallied three receptions for 117 yards and two touchdowns, including a Memorial Stadium record 81-yard touchdown reception...appeared in 11 games (four starts) in '98 and tallied five receptions for 78 yards...played nine games as a true freshman in 1996 and was 7-146-1TD receiving...has recorded a 38-inch vertical leap and a phenomenal sub-4.0 in the pro agility drill.

PAUL MANDINA, DT, SR
6-4, 310, Rochester, N.Y.

A team captain...had an excellent spring prior to the 2000 season and will look to become one of the Big Ten's finest defenders...is athletic, big and tough...was one of Indiana's most consistent players throughout the 1999 season...started 11 games at nose guard last fall and finished the season with 40 tackles, including 3.5

sacks...also forced and recovered a fumble and broke up a pass...fought through a nagging knee injury in 1998 but did see action in nine games (two starts) and recorded 15 tackles, including two sacks.

ANTWAAN RANDLE EL, QB, SR/JR
5-10, 194, Riverdale, Ill.

One of the nation's most exciting and versatile players, this 5-foot-10, 194-pound quarterback has established himself as one of the country's finest college players...was a semifinalist for the 1999 Davey O'Brien Award and earned second team All-Big Ten honors last fall...as a sophomore, completed 150 of 279 passes for 2,277 yards and 17 touchdowns (seven INTs; one in final 23 quarters of the '99 campaign) and rushed for 788 yards and 13 scores...became the first sophomore in the history of the Big Ten Conference to reach 5,000 career total yards during his sophomore season...

reached 3,000 yards passing and 1,500 yards rushing faster than any player in college football history (19 games)...set single-season school records for touchdown passes (17) and total offense (3,065 yards rushing and passing)...averaged 301.9 total yards and 2.4 touchdowns against seven bowl-eligible opponents (2,113 yards and 17 TDs in seven games, including 321 yards and four touchdowns vs. Michigan, 271 yards and three touchdowns at Penn State, and 377 yards and two touchdowns vs. Purdue).

6-3, 265, Hadley, Mich.

Has emerged as one of the finest players on the IU roster and will look to make major contributions at defensive end this fall...was selected by his teammates as a 2000 co-captain...after earning playing time in 11 games in 1998, burst onto the scene last fall and played extremely well...in 1999, started 11 games at defensive end and recorded 42 tackles, including 11.5 for loss and 6.5 sacks. Also broke up three passes, forced two fumbles and blocked a kick...notched 12 tackles, including one for loss, and one pass broken up in 1998...has the potential to become one of the steadiest defensive linemen in the Big Ten Conference...has good explosiveness and tenacity...earned Academic All-Big Ten honors.

LEVON WILLIAMS, RB, SR/JR
6-4, 221, Evansville, Ind.

One of the most versatile players in the Big Ten Conference, this talented running back earned honorable mention All-Big Ten accolades in 1999...will look to become one of the top players in the conference this fall...during the spring prior to the 1999 campaign, moved from wide receiver, where he played in 1998, to running back...rushed 118 times for 817 yards (6.9 ypc) and four touchdowns and also caught 33 passes for 360 yards and three scores in 1999.

Iowa HAWKEYES

TEAM NOTES

Kirk Ferentz completed his first season as Hawkeye head coach with a 1-10 record. Ferentz has compiled a 13-31 record in four seasons as a collegiate head coach.

The 1999 Hawkeyes played a schedule that was rated the fourth toughest in the country, according to Sagarin Ratings. Six opponents (Nebraska, Wisconsin, Penn State, Michigan State, Minnesota and Ohio State) were ranked in the Associated Press Top 25 throughout much of the season, and five were ranked in the BCS top 15 at the end of the year. Six of the 11 opponents went to bowl games.

The Hawkeyes look at another tough schedule for the 2000 season. All of the ranked teams that appeared on Iowa's 1999 schedule are back with the addition of powerful Kansas State.

Running back Ladell Betts, wide receiver Kevin Kasper and safety Matt Bowen earned All-Big Ten honors in 1999. League coaches voted Betts to the second team, while Bowen was named second team by a vote of Big Ten media. Kasper earned honorable mention recognition. Betts led the team in rushing with 857 yards, and Bowen led in tackles with 109. Kasper led Iowa receivers with 60 catches for 664 yards.

Kasper, a senior, ranked second in the Big Ten in receptions per game (6.0). He tied a school record with 13 receptions against Ohio State last year. He has a career total of 75 catches for 974 yards.

Senior quarterback Scott Mullen stepped into the starting role in Iowa's last five games of the 1999 season. He completed 126 of 226 passes for 1,415 yards and five touchdowns. Mullen tied a school record with 60 pass attempts against Indiana. His 36 completions, 473 yards total offense and 74 offensive plays against Indiana are Kinnick Stadium records.

Senior Jason Baker handled Iowa's punting duties for the third year in 1999. He averaged 42.3 last year to rank 30th nationally. Baker has two of the longest punts in Iowa history (79 & 76 yards) to his credit. His career punting average is 41.2 yards.

Michigan WOLVERINES

TEAM NOTES

The Wolverine football program heads into the 2000 campaign within reach of the 35-million fan plateau at the "Big House." Since the opening of Michigan Stadium 74 years ago (1927), 34,333,312 fans have watched the Wolverines play 443 home games. U-M needs to draw 666,688 fans to the six-game home schedule this season to move over 35 million in all-time attendance at Michigan Stadium.

The Wolverines have led the nation in attendance 25 of the last 26 seasons and enter 2000 with a streak of 154 games with at least 100,000 fans at Michigan Stadium. U-M set a pair of NCAA records last year: single-game attendance mark of 111,575 fans vs. Ohio State on November 20 and season average of 111,008 fans for the 1999 season.

The Wolverines head into the 2000 season needing four victories to reach the 800-win plateau in school history. Beginning its 121st season of gridiron action, Michigan ranks second in all-time wins (all divisions), trailing Yale University (799 wins entering this season). The Wolverines list first in Division I-A history in all-time wins and rank second in all-time winning percentage.

When the Wolverines take the field against Bowling Green State University in the home and season opener on September 2, University of Michigan football coach Lloyd Carr will be looking to claim his 50th victory as a collegiate coach. Carr has posted a 49-13 career record in five seasons and has led Michigan to three consecutive 10-win seasons and bowl victories.

Returning captain and fifth-year senior left guard Steve Hutchinson looks to become only the second Wolverine and third player in Big Ten Conference history to earn All-Big Ten Conference first team honors all four years of his career. Hutchinson could join former Michigan defensive lineman Mark Messner as the school's representative in this exclusive group and Michigan State punter Ray Stachowitz as the only players in that category. Hutchinson has received first team Conference accolades all three years by the media and has been a first team selection by the coaches the past two years (was a second team selection as a redshirt freshman). He has started 33 career games (every game that he has played) and is known as a punishing run blocker and excellent pass blocker.

Junior wide receiver David Terrell (Richmond, Va./Huguenot HS) heads into the 2000 season after a record-setting season that saw him catch 71 passes for 1,038 yards and seven touchdowns. Terrell capped a stellar sophomore year by being named the FedEx Orange Bowl MVP after catching a Michigan bowl record 10 passes for 150 yards and three touchdowns. His 71 receptions in 1999 are second only to Jack Clancy's 76 in season records, while his 1,038 yards list third behind Amani Toomer (1,096) and Clancy (1,079). Terrell equaled the school record with 100-yard receiving games in five contests, gaining those numbers against Notre Dame (8-115), at Syracuse (7-110), at Indiana (6-100), at Penn State (6-133) and vs. Alabama (10-150). He has 85 career receptions for 1,187 yards and nine touchdowns.

After splitting time at quarterback with current New England Patriot Tom Brady the past two years, junior Drew Henson (Brighton, Mich./Brighton HS) looks to solidify the starting spot and make his first career start. Henson completed 47-of-90 passing attempts for 546 yards and three touchdowns in 10 games last season, including a career-best 16-of-26 performance for 151 yards and one TD in three quarters of action in Michigan's 18-13 victory at Syracuse. He also caught a 23-yard pass on a trick play and scored on a one-yard quarterback keeper against Rice last season. A two-year letterman, Henson has completed 68-of-137 passing attempts (49.6 pct.) for 800 yards and six touchdowns in 18 career games.

TEAM NOTES

Michigan State compiled its first 10-win season since 1965 against a terribly difficult schedule. Seven of MSU's opponents were ranked in the Top 25 at the time of the game, and four were rated among the top 15 in the final BCS rankings (3-1 in those games).

One of the 10 wins was a 34-0 shutout over Northwestern, the first since Sept. 28, 1996, vs. Eastern Michigan (47-0). It marked MSU's first shutout against a Big Ten team since Nov. 19, 1988, vs. Wisconsin (36-0), and its first road shutout of a Big Ten opponent since Oct. 17, 1987, vs. Northwestern (38-0).

Michigan State had a perfect 6-0 record at Spartan Stadium this year, the Spartans' 16th unbeaten record of all-time and first since 1966 (5-0-1). It was their first unbeaten and untied home slate since 1965 (5-0-0).

Michigan State recorded wins over Notre Dame, Michigan, Ohio State and Penn State in the same season for the first time since 1965. In fact, it marked the first time since '65 that the Spartans defeated any three of those teams in one season. The Spartans finished that '65 campaign 10-1 while winning the Big Ten title and the national championship.

Michigan State led the Big Ten and finished fifth in the NCAA in rushing defense, allowing just 77.0 yards per game on the ground. That figure is fourth-best all-time at MSU in a full season. MSU surrendered 100 yards rushing only four times last season (108 to Notre Dame, 301 vs. Wisconsin, 110 vs. Northwestern, 157 vs. Penn State). Ron Dayne (214 yards) was the only player to rush for 100 yards against the Spartans in 1999.

Michigan State did not allow a rushing touchdown through the first five games of the season, the first time MSU had gone five games without giving up a rushing touchdown since joining the Big Ten in 1953.

Michigan State was the highest-ranked team in the final Associated Press poll which did not appear in the AP's preseason top 25. Others in the final top 15 which were overlooked in the preseason were No. 10 Marshall, No. 13 Mississippi State and No. 14 Southern Mississippi. MSU's rise to fifth in the October 10 Associated Press poll was the highest ranking at any point in 1999 for a team which was not ranked in the AP preseason poll.

Michigan State is 8-5 in its last 13 games against teams ranked in the Associated Press Top 25, including a 5-2 record in 1999 with wins over 24th-ranked Notre Dame, third-ranked Michigan, 20th-ranked Ohio State, 13th-ranked Penn State and 10th-ranked Florida. Six of those eight victories over ranked teams have come while MSU was unranked or ranked below its opponent and includes the upset of No. 1 Ohio State in 1998 in Columbus. The Spartans had been 3-22 (.120) in their previous 25 games against ranked teams before their current 8-5 run.

Michigan State's total defense (299.0 yards allowed per game) ranked first in the Big Ten and 12th in the nation and was the best average at MSU since 1989 (280.9) by over 15 yards per game. In 1998, the Spartans gave up 363.3 yards per game.

The Spartans were 22nd in the nation in scoring defense at 19.2 points against per game, the best mark since the 1990 team allowed 18.6 points per game.

Michigan State's defense produced 54 quarterback sacks in 1999, the most since MSU began keeping team totals in 1984. The previous high had been the 1997 team with 36 sacks.

Minnesota GOLDEN GOPHERS

TEAM NOTES

Last season the Gophers received a bid to the 66th Annual Wells Fargo Sun Bowl in El Paso, Texas. It was their first bowl bid in 13 years. The Gophers lost 24-20 to Oregon.

The 1999 Gophers won the most games of any U of M team since 1967 and were ranked as high as 12th in the national polls, the highest mark since 1962.

The Golden Gophers turnaround was on both sides of the ball. They finished second in the Big Ten and 11th in the NCAA in rushing, as well as fourth in the Big Ten and 22nd in the nation in total defense.

Minnesota returns five starters and 18 lettermen on offense and eight starters and 17 lettermen on defense from the 1999 team. Among those returning are 1999 All-American and All-Big Ten and All-America, Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award candidate center Ben Hamilton, and All-America candidate and 1999 Big Ten sacks leader defensive end Karon Riley.

Also returning for the Golden Gophers are All-Big Ten offensive guard Adam Haager, All-Big Ten linebacker Sean Hoffman, All-Big Ten wide receiver Ron Johnson, All-Big Ten cornerback Willie Middlebrooks, Freshman All-American and All-Big Ten placekicker Dan Nystrom and All-Big Ten defensive tackle John Schlecht.

Many of the returning starters have already put their names in the Golden Gopher record books and look to grab the top spots this season. Many have also been named by football magazines, such as Lindy's, as among the top 25 players in their respective positions.

The Golden Gopher offensive line, which returns four players, only allowed 20 sacks last season. The Gopher defense racked up an impressive 44 sacks for a loss of 251 yards.

Sophomore placekicker Dan Nystrom led the team in scoring last season with 92 points. That is also a U of M school record. Nystrom put the ball through the uprights with 91 percent accuracy. He was 41-43 on extra point attempts and 17-21 on field goal attempts. His long was a 51-yard field goal in a 44-20 win over Indiana.

GOLDEN GOPHERS TO WATCH

BEN HAMILTON, C, SR 6-5, 283, Plymouth, Minn.

Named first-team All-America by the Associated Press, The Sporting News and CBS Sportsline in 1999...named to the 1999 Outland Trophy "Watch List"...named first-team All-Big Ten in the coaches poll, second team by media...Champaign News-Gazette 1999 preseason first-team All-Big Ten selection...the leader of the Golden Gopher offensive line...returned to the lineup for the Northwestern game (10/2/99) after missing the Illinois State game due to knee surgery...only gave up one sack last season...had 69 knockdown blocks to his credit in 11 games last season...heady player who possesses great footwork...quickly developing into one of the finest centers in school history...the son of former Minnesota Vikings offensive lineman Wes Hamilton.

SEAN HOFFMAN, SLB, SR 6-3, 244, Fargo, N.D.

Hard-nosed, physical player who has made 35 consecutive starts in his career...classic sam (middle) line-backer who loves to mix it up...1999 All-Big Ten honorable mention...ranked third on the team with 80 total tackles in '99...had 12 tackles, including a school-record six tackles for loss, a sack and caused a fumble in the 33-14 victory over Northwestern (10/2/99)...has registered 257 tackles, 25 tackles for loss, 11 sacks, four interceptions and four fumble recoveries in his career...ranks fifth on the school's all-time sack list with 11 sacks...impact performer who is a real emotional leader for the defense.

BEN MEZERA, DLB, SR 6-4, 242, Waupaca, Wis.

Two-year starter at drop line-backer...was given the team's Butch Nash award for showing the highest level of competitiveness on the field and in the classroom...has racked up 132 tackles, 30 tackles for loss, two interceptions and four fumble recoveries in 34 career games...second on the all-time school list with 20 career sacks...finished third on the team last year with 17 tackles for loss...fourth on the career tackles for loss list with 30...tied a school record with three sacks against Northwestern (10/2/99), one of which caused a fumble...possesses a knack for being in the right place at the right time.

WILLIE MIDDLEBROOKS, CB, JR 6-2, 190, Florida City, Fla.

Returning starter at cornerback...named second-team All-Big Ten by the Conference coaches and received honorable mention honors from the media...an outstanding cover man, he has great size and speed...progressed into one of the team's top defensive players throughout the 1999 season...returned an interception 26 yards for a touchdown vs. UL Monroe (9/11/99)—the first time it had been done at Minnesota since Crawford Jordan did it against Arkansas State (9/30/95)...led the team and finished second in the Big Ten with 18 pass breakups.

KARON RILEY, DE, SR 6-4, 248, Detroit, Mich.

Has become a dominant player at defensive end for the Golden Gophers...led the Big Ten in sacks in '99 with 16...third-team All-America selection by The Football News...named first-team All-Big Ten by the media and second-team All-Big Ten by the conference coaches...transferred to Minnesota before the 1998 season after two years at SMU...named by Sports Illustrated as one of the top ten transfers in 1999...outstanding athlete who has all the tools...possesses superior size, strength and speed...led the team and finished third in the Big Ten with 22 tackles for loss...sixth on the team in tackles with 59.

Northwestern WILDCATS

TEAM NOTES

Last year's youth begets this year's experience. Northwestern returns starters to 16 of the 22 positions on offense and defense this year, and the balance is evident—seven on offense, nine on defense.

Northwestern faced eight teams last year that finished with winning records and seven that played in bowl games. Only South Carolina (9) and Notre Dame (8) played more games against bowl-bound teams than the Wildcats in 1999.

Last year, junior Damien Anderson gained 1,128 yards rushing, marking the fourth time in the last five years a Wildcat player has passed the 1,000-yard plateau for a season. Only one other Big Ten school has had a 1,000-yard rusher four of the last five years—Wisconsin, which had Ron Dayne achieve the feat four times.

Northwestern returns two of the leading tacklers in the Big Ten from a year ago. Kevin Bentley finished with 148 to lead the Conference—the fourth time in five years an NU linebacker has led the Big Ten—while Napoleon Harris had 110 to finish third. One other player, Rashad Morton, had 103 tackles.

One area that will be deep in 2000 is wide receiver. Last year, the Wildcats were decimated by injuries at that position, giving several players ample time. With everyone healthy, the legion of wideouts could be one of NU's biggest strengths.

Harold Blackmon established a school record last year when he broke up 17 passes. He already holds the career record, as well, with 26 pass breakups. As a team, NU had 60 PBUs which shattered the previous record of 44.

Dwayne Missouri finished last season with 20 tackles-for-loss, the second-best mark in school history. If he duplicates the feat in 2000, he will end up second on the career list with 49, behind only Casey Dailey (53 from 1994-97).

Ohio State BUCKEYES

TEAM NOTES

This is Ohio State's 111th season of intercollegiate football. The Buckeyes own an all-time record of 717-283-53. Ohio State is one of just seven schools with 700 or more wins. The Buckeyes also own an all-time Big Ten record of 390-149-24 and have captured 28 conference titles. Ohio State joined the Big Ten in 1912 and began playing league games in 1913.

Fred Pagac has been elevated from defensive coordinator to assistant head coach and will continue to call the defensive signals on game day. Jon Tenuta will take over as defensive coordinator and will devise the defensive game plan. Tenuta will continue to coach the defensive backs. Chuck Stobart, the wide receivers coach the past four years, will take over as offensive coordinator. Head coach John Cooper also has added two new coaches to the OSU staff—George Belu and Brian Williams. Belu, who coached at Wake Forest last year and is a 1961 graduate of Ohio University, will coach the offensive line. Williams, at Pitt last year and a 1996 graduate of Kentucky, will take over as linebackers coach. Other switches have Tim Salem coaching the quarterbacks and wide receivers (he had only the quarterbacks last year) and Jim Heacock taking over the entire defensive line.

The Buckeyes go into the season with a string of nine-consecutive seasons in which they have produced at least one first-team All-America. Na'il Diggs kept that string alive last year by being named to a first-team spot on the Football News team. Cornerback Ahmed Plummer also won All-America honors last year, but his accolades came in the classroom, when he was named to the CoSIDA GTE Academic All-America team—the 20th Buckeye to make that squad. No slouch on the field, Plummer was a first-round draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers.

This is the 50th anniversary of Vic Janowicz winning the 1950 Heisman Trophy and the 25th anniversary of Archie Griffin winning the 1975 Heisman (his second).

Howard "Hopalong" Cassady and Janowicz will have their numbers retired this year. Cassady, No. 40, won the Heisman Trophy in 1955. Janowicz, No. 31, won it in 1950. Griffin had his No. 45 retired last year, thus becoming the first Ohio State athlete to be so honored.

Ohio Stadium is currently in the second year of a three-year renovation and restoration project, scheduled for completion prior to the 2001 season. This year's capacity is estimated at 95,346, but that number could fluctuate from game to game.

Ohio State BUCKEYES

BUCKEYES TO WATCH

RODNEY BAILEY, DE, SR 6-3, 270, Cleveland, Ohio

Will start at left defensive end for the Buckeyes... big, strong and quick... coming off a very productive spring practice... coaches feel he is poised to have his best year... has played in all 37 games the past three years and has started 22 of those contests... started six games last year and played in all 12... wound up the season with 23 tackles, including 17 solos and five tackles for loss... enters the season with 19 career tackles for loss and six sacks... top game in 1999 was six tackles against Ohio... career high in tackles is nine, against Michigan as a freshman in 1997.

STEVE BELLISARI, QB, JR 6-3, 220, Boca Raton, Fla.

Returns for his second year as a starter... tremendous athlete who is a dangerous runner and passer... emotional leader... has the ability to scramble out of trouble and turn an apparent loss into a big play... Ohio State's leading returning passer and rusher, throwing for 1,668 yards and 12 touchdowns and running for 332 yards in 1999... likes to throw on the run, and the OSU offense this year is designed to get him out on the corner and take better advantage of his athletic skills... nailed down the starting position last year by completing 11 of 16 passes and throwing for a pair of touchdowns in the win over UCLA... threw for over 200 yards against Ohio University, Wisconsin and Iowa... also an exceptional student... his brother, Greg, played linebacker for the Buckeyes and was captain of the 1996 team that posted an 11-1 record and defeated Arizona State in the Rose Bowl.

LeCHARLES BENTLEY, C, JR 6-2, 290, Cleveland, Ohio

Hasn't taken a snap in a live game as yet, but may be the best center in all of college football before this season is over... started the final seven games of the season last year—six at left guard and the season finale against Michigan at right tackle—and averaged 21 minutes a game during that stretch... was selected by the coaching staff at the end of the season as Ohio State's best offensive lineman... was moved to center in the spring as a replacement for two-year regular

Kurt Murphy... quickly adapted to his new position... is tough, physical, smart, talented and extremely hardworking and competitive... has the potential to be one of the best centers in Ohio State history and will be a legitimate All-America candidate in 2000 even though this is his first year at center.

NATE CLEMENTS, CB, JR 5-11, 190, Shaker Heights, Ohio

Will be the Buckeyes' corner this year, following in the footsteps of Ahmed Plummer, Antoine Winfield and Shawn Springs in recent years... the Buckeyes' leading returning tackler, finishing the 1999 campaign with 90 stops, four behind team leader Na'il Diggs' 94... led the team in solo stops with 76, including eight tackles for loss... tied Plummer for the team lead in pass breakups with nine... also had a pair of interceptions in a solid first year as a starter... opened the season with a bang, collecting 14 tackles against Miami in the Kickoff Classic... also had double-figure games against Cincinnati (10-1-11) and Penn State (8-2-10)... nine tackles, all solos, against Michigan... has great one-on-one skills and is a ferocious hitter... this should be a breakout year.

KEN-YON RAMBO, FL, SR 6-1, 190, Cerritos, Calif.

Will be in his second year as a starter and has played in 35 games the past three years... one of, if not the, fastest players on the team... has a tremendous burst off the line and is especially elusive in the openfield... now that he has a year of experience as a starter, has the potential to put up really big numbers this season... wound up the 1999 campaign with 41 receptions, two behind split end Reggie Germany... led the receiving corps in total yardage with 833 and in yards per catch at 20.0... also had a team-high six touchdown receptions... also averaged 6.8 yards per carry on 12 rushing attempts and 6.7 yards on punt returns... ranked fourth in the Big Ten in yards per game (69.4) and all-purpose yardage (128.3)... top games last year included eight catches against UCLA and 181 yards against Ohio U... had two touchdown receptions in each of those games... also had 179 yards on seven receptions against Iowa.

Penn State

NITTANY LIONS

TEAM NOTES

Penn State enters its 114th season of intercollegiate football with a 734-305-42 record, tied with Alabama for fifth in all-time victories.

In its initial seven seasons of competition in the Big Ten, Penn State has compiled the Conference's best overall record with a 70-16 (81.4) mark. Ohio State is second at 68-18-1. The Lions have compiled a 41-15 (73.2) record in Conference games, second only to Ohio State's 42-13-1 mark.

Penn State has played in a January bowl game in eight of the last nine years, a feat matched only by Florida, Florida State, Nebraska and Tennessee.

The Lions have won all 23 regular-season non-conference games since joining the Big Ten in 1993 and 29 of 30 overall. Their only non-league loss the past seven years came to Florida in the 1998 Florida Citrus Bowl.

In his 35th season as head coach and 51st year as a member of the coaching staff, Joe Paterno owns a 317-83-3 record, a winning percentage of 79.0, which is second-best among active coaches. Since becoming head coach in 1966, there have been 671 head coaching changes in Division I-A, an average of 5.94 changes for each of the other 113 I-A institutions.

Paterno enters the 2000 season just six wins behind Paul "Bear" Bryant's all-time record of 323 for major college coaches. Pop Warner is second with 319 victories.

Paterno is college football's all-time winningest bowl coach, owning a 20-9-1 (68.3) record in post-season tilts. He is also the leader with 30 bowl appearances. Paterno has taken the Lions to 13 different bowl games, winning in 12 locales, the most of any coach.

Fran Ganter has been named assistant head coach and will continue to oversee the offense and running backs. Secondary coach Tom Bradley will supervise the defense, replacing Jerry Sandusky, who retired after 32 years on the staff.

Penn State has the nation's best record since Joe Paterno joined the staff in 1950. The Nittany Lions have a 421-131-7 (75.9) record over the last 50 years, followed by Ohio State (395-129-15; 74.7), Nebraska (423-144-9; 74.2), Oklahoma (409-140-12; 74.1) and Alabama (411-153-17; 72.3).

Penn State NITTANY LIONS

NITTANY LIONS TO WATCH

JAMES BOYD, SS, SR 6-0, 206, Chesapeake, Va.

Will be a leader in the defensive backfield... is one of the hardest hitters in the Big Ten... finished 1999 ranked third on the squad with 69 tackles and is the team's leading returning tackler... recorded 50 solo stops, second-most behind only All-America middle linebacker Brandon Short... was on the field for 665 snaps in 1999, second-highest among defensive returnees... grabbed three interceptions, tying for the team lead, and had seven pass breakups... appeared in all 12 contests and made six starting assignments at free safety... made a season-high 10 tackles against Indiana and nine vs. Iowa.

RASHARD CASEY, QB, SR 6-1, 205, Hoboken, N.J.

Top candidate at quarterback after forming one of the nation's most successful quarterback tandems with Kevin Thompson in 1999... led the team with five rushing touchdowns... paced the Big Ten in pass efficiency with a 153.9 rating... earned Offensive MVP honors in the Alamo Bowl vs. Texas A&M in his first career start... was 8-16 for 146 yards, including a 45-yard scoring strike to Eddie Drummond, and rushed for 27 yards, with a four-yard scoring run in the Lions' dominating 24-0 performance of the Aggies... was 59-of-94 for 856 yards and topped the Conference with a 62.8 completion percentage in '99... threw six touchdowns against three interceptions and ranked second on the squad in rushing with 290 yards... accounted for 11 touchdowns (five rushing, six passing)... was responsible for 19 plays of 20 yards or more.

inating 24-0 performance of the Aggies... was 59-of-94 for 856 yards and topped the Conference with a 62.8 completion percentage in '99... threw six touchdowns against three interceptions and ranked second on the squad in rushing with 290 yards... accounted for 11 touchdowns (five rushing, six passing)... was responsible for 19 plays of 20 yards or more.

MIKE CERIMELE, FB, SR 5-10, 237, Allentown, Pa.

One of the squad's leaders, he is a multi-talented player... a fiery player, he is a consistently productive blocker, ball carrier and receiver... made seven starts in 1999 and saw action in all 12 games... gained 112 yards on 31 carries and scored three touchdowns...

hauled in 13 passes for 148 yards and two scores... rang up a season-high 45 yards rushing, including a pair of scoring runs, against Akron... made four catches for 41 yards vs. Pittsburgh.

JUSTIN KURPEIKIS, DE, SR 6-4, 255, Allison Park, Pa.

Will be looked to as a leader of the defense this season... intense player who's a probable postseason honors candidate... started all 12 games in 1999 at defensive end... finished the season with 52 tackles (39 solo)... recorded nine sacks, which tied for second-most on the team with All-American LaVar Arrington... totaled 13 tackles which resulted in losses of 69 yards, third-highest on the squad... forced a fumble and had three pass breakups... was on the field for 845 plays, tops among defensive returnees... tallied 10 stops (seven solo) with four tackles for minus 21 yards, including two sacks, in the Lions' 24-0 win over Texas A&M in the Alamo Bowl.

KAREEM MCKENZIE, OT, SR 6-7, 321, Willingboro, N.J.

A two-year starter who has established himself as one of the top linemen in the Big Ten... named a pre-season first-team All-American by Lindy's, second team by Football News and third team by Athlon... selected first-team All-Big Ten in 1999... was the only Nittany Lion offensive lineman to start every game last season... an imposing presence, McKenzie was on the field for 908 snaps in 1999, second-highest on the squad... was a key in Penn State gaining more than 400 yards of total offense in seven games, with six rushing efforts of 200 yards or more... helped to spark the Penn State offense to its best rushing performance in four years with 341 yards at Iowa.

Purdue BOILERMAKERS

TEAM NOTES

The Purdue football team completed the 1999 season with a 7-5 overall record after losing to Georgia in the Outback Bowl 28-25 in overtime on New Year's Day 2000 in Tampa, Fla. The Boilermakers were 4-4 in the Big Ten Conference, good for a sixth-place tie with Illinois. They were ranked No. 25 in the final Associated Press poll and No. 28 by ESPN/USA Today.

Over the past three seasons under head coach Joe Tiller, the Boilermakers have won 25 games. In the first seven years of the 1990s, Purdue managed merely 23 victories (two in 1990, four in 1991, four in 1992, one in 1993, five in 1994, four in 1995 and three in 1996).

For the third consecutive season, the Boilermakers were selected for a postseason bowl game. Purdue won the 1997 Alamo Bowl over Oklahoma State 33-20 and the 1998 Alamo Bowl over Kansas State 37-34 before losing the 2000 Outback Bowl. The only other times Purdue played in (and won) three consecutive bowl games were 1978, 1979 and 1980.

The Boilermakers are 15-3 in the friendly confines of Ross-Ade Stadium under Tiller. The lone losses are 42-17 to Penn State on Nov. 15, 1997; 31-25 to Penn State on Oct. 30, 1999; and 28-21 to Wisconsin on Nov. 6, 1999.

Purdue had a total home season attendance of 380,542 for the 1999 season. That's a six-game average of 63,424, which is the sixth-highest in school history. The school record average is 69,892 in 1981, followed by 69,618 in 1980; 68,966 in 1979; 66,861 in 1982; and 65,358 in 1983.

Senior quarterback and Heisman Trophy candidate Drew Brees continues to move up Purdue's career passing lists. He ranks second in attempts (1,166), completions (717), yards (8,124), touchdowns (64) and total offense (8,503). Mark Herrmann (1977-80) leads each of those five categories. Brees, a first-team All-Big Ten selection and a finalist for the Heisman Trophy, Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award and Maxwell Award, needs 143 attempts, 55 completions, 1,822 passing yards, seven touchdowns and 631 yards total offense to catch Herrmann. Brees is the Boilermakers' career leader in completion percentage at .615 (717-for-1,166).

Purdue's offensive line did another stellar job of protecting the quarterback in 1999, allowing merely 1.5 sacks while the offense passed 568 times. That's a ratio of one sack every 37.9 passes, which is better than the 1998 season's ratio of one sack every 37.1 passes.

Senior Vinny Sutherland, who holds Purdue's fastest time in the 40-yard dash at 4.32, set school records with 142 punt return yards and a 28.4-yard average on five returns against Central Michigan on Sept. 18, 1999, including a 64-yard return for a touchdown. He bettered the standards of 138 yards and a 19.7 average established by Ken Gorgal against Pittsburgh on Nov. 13, 1948. Sutherland subsequently had a 66-yard punt return for a touchdown at Indiana on Nov. 20, 1999, to become the first player in school history with two punt returns for touchdowns in a single season.

The Purdue defense had 26 takeaways during the 1999 season (14 interceptions and 12 fumble recoveries). The Boilermakers returned two interceptions for touchdowns (senior linebacker Mike Rose at Central Florida on Sept. 4, 1999, and junior linebacker Jason Loerzel against Central Michigan on Sept. 18, 1999) and took one fumble recovery into the end zone (senior defensive tackle David Nugent against Michigan State on Oct. 16, 1999). The Boilermakers set a school season record with 115 tackles for loss. The previous mark was 101 by the 1979 squad.

In three seasons under Tiller, the Boilermakers have appeared on national television a total of 23 times out of 37 games. The breakdown by network—ABC (eight games, 3-5 record), ESPN (10 games, 7-3 record), ESPN2 (four games, 2-2 record), and NBC (one game, 1-0 record). In addition, they have appeared on regional television on five occasions (all ESPN+, 5-0 record).

Wisconsin BADGERS

TEAM NOTES

The Badgers are the only school in the nation to win Bowl Championship Series games in the opening two years of the format.

The UW became the first team in Big Ten history to win the Rose Bowl in back-to-back seasons with a 17-9 triumph over Stanford.

Wisconsin, Tennessee and Florida State are the only schools in the nation to play in BCS games in 1998 and 1999.

The Badgers' two-year record (1998-99) of 21-3 is fifth-best in the nation, and Wisconsin's eight-game winning streak is the NCAA's third-longest active streak.

The UW's 7-1 League record last fall gave the school its first undisputed Big Ten title in 37 years. That came in a conference that featured seven bowl teams.

Wisconsin was the only team in the nation to win three Rose Bowls in the decade of the 1990s (Washington and Michigan won two each).

Wisconsin has been ranked in the national polls in 32 of the last 33 weeks.

Wisconsin has won 20 consecutive games in which it has the same or fewer turnovers than the opponent.

Badger offensive linemen Casey Rabach, Bill Ferrario and Dave Costa have combined to start 108 games as Badgers. Ferrario could become just the fourth player in League history to start 50 games if he starts every game this fall including a bowl.

Wisconsin is 35-0-1 during Barry Alvarez' career when UW gains at least 200 yards on the ground and limits the opposition to less than 125 yards rushing.

Wisconsin's bowl game winning percentage (.833) last decade was second best in the nation (LSU was 3-0).

Tailback Michael Bennett and cornerback B.J. Tucker, a pair of Milwaukee natives, finished first and second in the Big Ten indoor track meet in the 60 meters. Bennett, in fact, won League indoor titles in the 60 and 200 and outdoor titles in the 100 and 200. He is the Big Ten's fastest athlete and qualified for the U.S. Olympic Trials.

Wisconsin is the first school in history to boast a Rose Bowl championship, Heisman Trophy winner and Final Four Men's Basketball team in the same year.

Wisconsin BADGERS

BADGERS TO WATCH

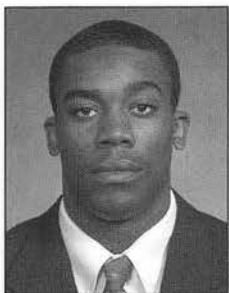

WENDELL BRYANT, RT, JR 6-4, 293, St. Louis, Mo.

One of just four players (and the only sophomore) to make first team All-Big Ten and academic All-Big Ten in 1999...led the Badgers with nine tackles for loss and seven sacks...one of three sophomores to make first team All-Big Ten in 1999...listed as nation's best defensive tackle by Lindy's...has recorded two tackles for loss in each of his Rose Bowl appearances (vs. UCLA and Stanford)...had game-clinching sack of Cade McNown to clinch the '99 Rose Bowl victory.

JAMAR FLETCHER, CB, SR 5-10, 176, St. Louis, Mo.

Broke the Big Ten career record for interceptions returned for TDs (five) in just his 20th collegiate game...two-time Big Ten interception leader (and the NCAA leader as a freshman)...280 career interception return yards are eighth most in league history...first team All-American by The Sporting News and Football News as a sophomore...preseason defensive player of the year by Lindy's and a consensus preseason All-American...has picks returned for TDs vs. UCLA's Cade McNown, Purdue's Drew Brees (twice), Northwestern's Zac Kustok and Illinois' Kurt Kittner.

VITALY PISETSKY, K, SR 5-10, 230, New York, N.Y.

Finalist for the Lou Groza and Masi Tatupu Awards in 1999...first team All-League kicker (Wisconsin's third straight)...scored 94 points and made 16-20 field goals...hit 14 straight FGs, one off the Big Ten season record in 1999...made school-record four FGs vs.

Michigan State and won Minnesota game with a 31 yarder in overtime...former Russian immigrant...75 percent of his kickoffs left the opponent at/inside the 20-yard line.

CASEY RABACH, C, SR 6-5, 301, Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

The nation's premier center...first team All-Big Ten by media in 1999...started for three years (35 games) at UW...Badgers have led League in rushing twice with Rabach at center...Wisconsin has a 225.8-yard rushing average during his career...team captain for this fall as chosen by teammates...calls all signals for offensive line...has started on three bowl teams at UW...blocked for three of Ron Dayne's record-breaking seasons.

KEVIN STEMKE, P, SR 6-2, 188, Green Bay, Wis.

First-team All-Big Ten punter as a sophomore and honorable mention as a junior...led League in punting in 1998...a career average of 43.1 yards is eighth best in Conference history and nearly two yards longer than current UW record...more than one third of his punts left the opponent at/inside the 20-yard line last season...career-long 86 yarder vs. Michigan State last season...kicks with left foot.

BIG TEN AND THE HEISMAN TROPHY

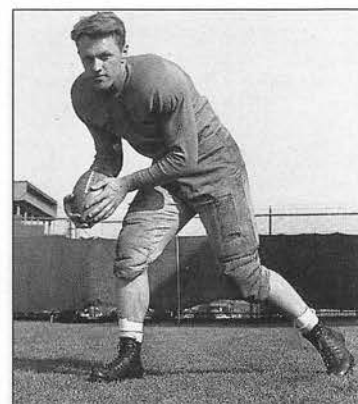

Awarded the first Heisman Trophy after the 1935 season, Chicago halfback Jay Berwanger was the last in a long line of University of Chicago football All-Americans.

Iowa halfback Nile Kinnick won the 1939 Heisman, the second Conference player to receive the honor. Kinnick played 402 out of a possible 420 minutes in the last seven games of 1939. Iowa's football stadium is dedicated in his honor.

Michigan halfback Tom Harmon won the Big Ten's third Heisman Trophy and second consecutive honor in 1940. A two-time national scoring champion, Harmon finished with 33 touchdowns, breaking Red Grange's Big Ten career record.

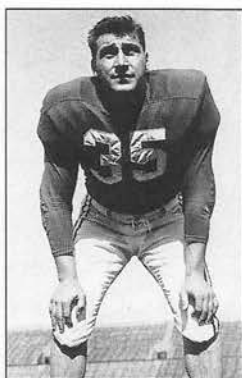

After leading Minnesota to two consecutive AP national titles, halfback Bruce Smith won the Heisman Trophy following the 1941 season. Smith led the 1941 Golden Gophers in rushing, passing and punting.

After being granted a fourth year of eligibility during World War II, Ohio State dental student Les Horvath ran and passed the undefeated Buckeyes to a Big Ten title, a No. 2 ranking in the polls and won the 1944 Heisman Trophy.

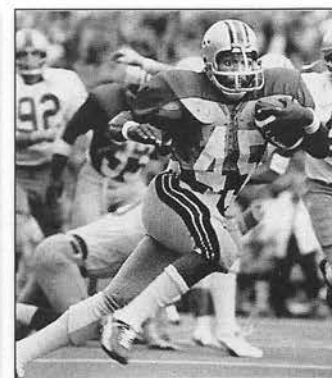

At 5-9, 185 pounds, halfback Vic Janowicz of Ohio State led the Conference in rushing and scoring, and won the 1950 Heisman Trophy. His list of accolades following the 1950 season included Conference MVP and UPI Player of the Year.

Wisconsin fullback Alan "The Horse" Ameche, a two-time All-American, won the 1954 Heisman Trophy. In 1951, Ameche became the first freshman in Conference history to lead the league in rushing.

Ohio State halfback Howard "Hopalong" Cassidy led the Buckeyes to consecutive Big Ten crowns (1954-55), one national championship (1954) and won the 1955 Heisman. Cassidy also won the 1955 Walter Camp, Maxwell and UPI Awards for Player of the Year.

Ohio State halfback Archie Griffin won the Heisman Trophy in 1974 and '75, the award's only two-time winner. Griffin was the all-time Big Ten rushing leader with 5,589 yards—a mark that stood until 1999. His 31 consecutive 100-yard games, from September 15, 1973, to November 22, 1975, is an NCAA record.

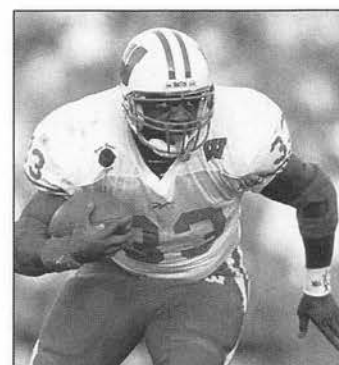

Receiver Desmond Howard won the 1991 Heisman Trophy for Conference champion Michigan. In 1991, Howard set an NCAA record by catching a TD pass in 10 consecutive games.

Tailback Eddie George, the 1995-96 Big Ten-Jesse Owens Athlete of the Year, etched his name in the Ohio State history books by becoming the fifth Buckeye player to win the coveted Heisman Trophy. George led the country in scoring with an average 12.1 points per game and reeled off 12 consecutive 100-yard games en route to setting school records in rushing and receptions by a running back. The award gave the Big Ten 12 Heisman winners, more than any other conference.

In 1997, Michigan cornerback Charles Woodson became the 13th Big Ten player to win the Heisman Trophy and the first predominantly defensive player to ever claim the award. Woodson etched his name into the Big Ten record books with eight interceptions in 1997 (tied for fourth) and 18 in his career (tied for fifth).

The Big Ten's 14th Heisman Trophy winner, Ron Dayne, re-wrote the Conference and NCAA rushing record books. The 1999 national consensus Player of the Year and two-time Rose Bowl MVP set the NCAA career yardage mark with 6,397 yards.
